Winter Carnival Scenes

'68 Winter Carnival Plans

For those of you who believe that winter is God's way of paying back men for their evil ways, that it consists of nothing more than slush and dirty cars, salty boots, frost bite and snow balls down your back, plan to attend and participate fully in the wide range of events slated for the annual winter carnival weekend, February 16 and 17. It is bound to change your opinion of winter, at least a little bit. As seen in the photos, winter carnival weekend consists of snow sculptures, ski-doo races, (supported by even our most dignified and unobviously atheletic sport enthusiasts.) On Friday night, the Circle K is sponsoring a Winter Carnival, semi-formal dance "Snowbound". The Ravins will be supplying the musical entertainment, and the cost of the affair per couple is $2.50. Each organization on campus is invited to sponsor a queen candidate -- names should be submitted to Jeff Stevenson or Carl Petroff by February 9. Saturday morning and afternoon's activities include tobogginning, judging of the snow sculptures, skiing on the O.B. slope. Saturday evenings festivities begin with the tentatively scheduled Nittany Cub team versus the Faculty team in a basketball game preceding the regulary scheduled game, Behrend vs. McKeesport Campus. Following the game the Nittany Cub is sponsoring a coffee-house type party including live folk entertainment for your listening enjoyment.

By the 17th our midterms will be behind us. What better time to forget your studies, put away your blue-books and live a little...The good life is at your fingertips... take advantage, my freinds!!!!
