STUDENT JUDICIARY IN OPERATION

A Student Judiciary, based on the guidelines set up by the Organization of Student Governments [OSGA], is now in full operation on the Behrend Campus.

The Court's establishment results from a revision made last year in Senate Policies and Rules for Undergraduate Students, Rule W-16, which gives students a choice between having his case heard by the Office of Student Affairs or the Student Judiciary.

One of the Purposes, as stated by the Student Court Manual, "is to allow him [a student] to discuss his case with a group of his peers who share some common experiences and problems". The goal of the Judiciary's treatment of disciplinary problems is the re-education or rehabilitation of the offender on a fair, objective and humane manner.

The Court presently consists of six members and three alternates from the student body, who were screened for their "maturity and stability, personal standards above reproach, and wholesome attitude in regards to people in a disciplinary context."

Dorm Council Elected

Officers of the Men's Residence Council and the Association of Women Students were elected October 14.

Representing the MRC are Bill Chisholm, president; Den Martin, vice president; Larry Stevens, secretary; and Ron Smith, treasurer. Executives of the AWS vice president; Monica Roska, secretary; and Sue Flonsky, treasurer.

The MRC and AWS will handle affairs of their areas of the dorm. A joint Dorm Council will be organized to coordinate problems of the group.

Miss Muia and Mr. Chisholm and four elected representatives will head the two wings of the dorm.

The Dorm Council will act on changes in dorm policies, rules and regulations.

Keystoners Will Offer Tutoring

Mid terms are here. That means a time when everyone has tight nerves from cramming, uneasy stomachs and an interest in the coffee business. There's something new though! The Keystone Society is trying to start a permanent tutoring service. To get it off the ground, they're asking any student in search of help to sign a list in the dorm or recreation area stating his name, phone and bothersome subject. For a nominal donation of 25¢, a Keystone member will help. If there is a big enough response, there may be regular sessions which anyone may attend.
