PRICE $.15

Pipe Dreams

VOLUME XX Feb. 28, 1969 NO. 8

'EOPLE of the U.S.A. 'RESENTED MARCH 6 BEHREND READERS

With the words, "Good ing, America", the Beh- Readers will open their ogram, "People of the A". The production will done in the Reed Lec- e Hall, on March 6, at .m. Admission is free.

Stories, poems, and al readings centering people and events in A- ican life read by stud- s in Speech 280. The ections include works Saroyan, Wolfe, Jackson, inbeck, Masters, Brad- y, Frost and other Amer- an authors.

Members of the Behrend aders, under the direc- on of Mrs. Nyla Falken- gen, are Paula Ignasiak, ise Muia, Concetta Riz- , Claudia White, Mr. eve Cohen, Tom Decker, ed Rydbom and Herb Sim- ns.

Icarus!

Behrend's annual lit- ary publication (every ring) not only would ke to encourage student d faculty submissions, t would also like help production and adverti- ng. See advisors Stein- and Gehrlein or the or, Rebecca Chitester.

Jim Dandy

On February 27 and 28 and March 1, the Behrend Players under the direction of Thomas V. Decker will present the play Jim Dandy. This play was written by the well-known play wright William Saroyan. Jim Dandy is a fascinating ly beautiful play of rare quality. "His characters are again symbolic figures," says W.P. Eaton of the New York Herald Tribune, "performing in a vac uum from which the oxygen of r e a l i t y has been drained. As usual, many of these characters have a quaint charm and speak sometimes with the tongues of poets. As usual, the message that all people are beautiful and it's love should make the world go round, is obvious, and stated in eloquent speeches. But just what was really the matter with the people in the first place and just how love is to solve their problem remains a mystery."

Curtain time is at 8:30p.m., Thursday, Friday and Saturday in the Reed Lecture Hall.

FROM THE COLE MIND