On February 27, 28, and March 1, Mr. Spielmann's Speech 301 class participated in the 34th annual Debate Congress at University Park.

Thirty different colleges, including Edinboro, Rutgers, and Cornell participated in a congress based on the United States Congress, and discussed civil disturbances and Presidential power. Other events included impromptu speaking and a Gavel Girl Contest. The latter is a competition among the girls and the winner receives a gavel.

Among those placing in the various categories was Mona Fernandez who took 5th place out of 24 in the Gavel Girl Contest. Art Hannah placed 7th out of 30 in persuasive speaking. Cheryl Ott placed 10th out of 40 in the impromptu category. Mike Adams and Dave Bunnell also placed in the competitions.

In the Congress, Behrend formed the sixth voting delegation, where they did a successful job of politicking. Behrend introduced and passed a resolution permitting freshmen to be elected to office in the Debate Congress. As a result of this bill, Mona Fernandez was elected alternate recording secretary. The Congress presented a successful chance to practice speaking skills in a situation akin to some real-life situations.

All attending agreed that the Congress was a valuable and stimulating experience. For those interested, Speech 301 will be offered again Spring term.

KEYSTONE CANDY SALE

Are you hungry every night as you slave over your studies in the dorm? Do you guys have a girl who likes to get presents? Is there a sentimental student around who would like to please their parents with a box of Easter candy? The Keystone Society has an answer to your every need, and that answer is a box of candy.

Keystone will be selling candy, starting next term in order to raise funds for the Honors and Awards Banquet. The candy is boxed, so if it has to be smuggled into the dorm, it won't melt in your pockets. You can choose from several assorted flavors and the cost is cheap—in fact, you can't buy a pound of candy for less. So, if you get hungry frequently or just want an occasional snack, come to the tables in the RUB or OB or see a Keystone member, but find some way to get to us, so you can join the contented students who have already bought their candy.
