The OSGA Executive Committee will be expanded as a result of an ammendment which requires the Commonwealth campus student representatives to the Senate Committees to be members of the OSGA Executive Committee.

Legislation was approved to raise the base membership assessment fee for each campus from $10 to $20. In addition to the base fee, each campus is assessed $1 for every 50 students enrolled on a full-time basis.

The OSGA—Undergraduate Student Government (at University Park) Motivation Project Act of 1969 was approved by the Assembly in nearly the same form as had passed before the USG Congress May 1.

Provisions for each SGA to adopt a pilot program to eradicate the cultural and racial imbalance which exists in its respective areas were appended to the act.

The Joint Statement on Rights and Freedoms of students was endorsed by OSGA. The Joint Statement has been adopted by many national organizations. It outlines "the essential provisions for student freedom to learn." It covers topics ranging from freedom of access to higher education to policy on student records and proceedings.

ALI (cont. from p. 1) ween a "Negro" and a "Black". "The Negro wants to force himself into white life, wants to eat with whites and marry white women. The black studies his own culture, marries black women and tries to make his own people clean and respectable." The Negro has been "whitewashed". "He has to be re-brainwashed."

"The Negro slaves are marching all over America thinking they are trying for equality with the whites' dogs. If we were your equal we would make our own jobs, have our own restaurants." He stressed the idea that "we don't have two feet of land to call our own." He likened it to a son living in his father's house.

Later in the speech, Ali gave some hope for radical unity. "How can we integrate when we're not one, a whole people? As soon as we're done cleaning up ourselves, then we'll think about integrating."

Afterwards, he answered questions from the audience concerning the teaching of the Black Muslims and his conflict with the draft board. When asked about his boxing careers, he reaffirmed

PACC Votes to Back '18 Years' Voting Programs

CWB Editor, Randy Kinkead, six staff members, and Mr. Baughman attended the Press Association of Commonwealth Campuses (PACC) conference held May 23 and 24, in conjunction with Colloquy '69 at University Park. Representatives of the staff were Denise Bufalari, Charlene Crotty, Gary Griffis, Bill Lockhart, Mark Moffett, and Concetta Rizzo.

The two-day conference accomplished the passing of one resolution (an increase of 50% for membership assessments) and one bill (which leaves suspension of individuals from the organization up to the PACC and not the University). A second resolution calling for the PACC to participate in campaigns leveled at lowering the voting age to 18 was surprisingly passed, after several assembly members voiced opposition to the resolution.

The results of the election of officers for the PACC are as follows:

President—Thomas C. Coleman (Main Campus), Vice-President—Michael M. Zuber (Schuylkill), Secretary—Becky Chaney (Fayette), Director—Jon D. Baughman (Altoona).

At the First Annual PACC Awards Banquet, the Ogontz Campus News received a trophy for the best newspaper from a campus with an enrollment of over 540. The Altoona Collegian received the second place trophy in the same category. From the newspapers from campuses with under 540 enrollment, the Beaver Herald received the first place prize and Fayette Campus' Lion's Line took second place honors.

Dr. Robert J. Scanell, Chairman of the University Senate and Associate Dean in the College of Health and Physical Education was the guest speaker at the Banquet. He spoke on the role and function of the University Senate.

The Annual Summer Conference and Workshop of the Association will be held at University Park on September 9, 10, 11, 1969.
