Overwhelming 105-35 Win: Cubs Improving At Home

Last weekend proved to be very profitable to Coach Marty Malkin and the Behrend Basketball team. Friday night the Cubs handed DuBois-Penn State an overwhelming 105-35 defeat. The competition wasn't exactly stiff, but the game got the Cubs in a high-spirited mood for the next game Saturday night against Beaver Campus. Throughout the whole game the Cubs hustled the ball and maintained complete control by using their fast breaking offense and a zone press defense. They played an excellent defense and they ironed out a few problems in shooting. The team as a whole shot 58% from the field and still a low 64% from the foul line which was a great improvement from previous games this season. Doug Zimmerman led the scoring with 23 points followed by Bob Schweitzer with 21 points and Gary Boroway with 20 points.

Gary Boroway outjumps opponent from DuBois in game Behrend won 105-35.

The next night the Cubs played a better experienced team, Beaver Campus, but Beaver team just wasn't strong enough physically and they were defeated 108-71. Again Behrend's full court press defense forced the opponent's offense to literally throw the ball away. Within the first 8 minutes of the game the Cubs held a 20 point lead and increased it steadily throughout the whole game. Leading scorers were Rob Schweitzer, 21 points, Gary Boroway, 21 points, and Doug Zimmerman, 17 points.

Coach Malkin commented on the individual efforts of Rob Schweitzer. He said that Schweitzer has greatly improved in these last two games, each time scoring 21 points. "Schweitzer is the type of player, who, when he goes for a shot no one can stop him, and now he's beginning to believe that." Malkin also commended the team work of Zimmerman, Schweitzer, and Boroway with their ability in shooting and also in rebounding. Guarding the back court are Mike Hook and Dan Porith who are also working well together.

Malkin believes that the Cubs are now returning from a slump which was due to the fact that 80% of the previous games were away. The high spirited student body Friday night and especially Saturday night certainly had a lot to do with the Cubs' victories. For some unknown reason the students picked Bill May as the hero of Sturday's game and they carried him off the court after the game was over.

Now 6-6 for the season, Malkin thinks that the Cubs should and will go undefeated for the rest of the season. After last Wednesday night's game at Shenango Valley, they have 4 home games in a row, the first with Altoona Sat., Jan. 31 at 3:00. The Cubs are also looking forward to the Penn State Commonwealth Campus Tournament on Feb. 27-28 at University Park.

Cub Grappler Bill Groner on his way to another victory.

Gruntin' Groner

by Mike McGinley

Spearheading the attack on Coach Onorato's wrestling team this year, is 126 lb. sophomore Bill Groner. A returning letterman, Bill comes from Erie's McDowell High School where he began to wrestle. Why wrestle? "I like sports, but I was too small for most of them so I decided to try wrestling," answered Bill.

His record last year was 5-0, he was unscored upon in dual meets and finished third in the regionals. At the present time Bill's slate reads 4-1, losing only to Doug Range, of Cuyahoga CC. Coach Onorato commented on the grappler saying, "He is a hard but quiet worker, and has sacrificed a lot to wrestle. I appreciate the fact that he wants to wrestle despite other responsibilities he has."

Bill holds several records; he has scored more points, won more matches and put together the longest win streak—6, than any other wrestler at Behrend.

Bill is enrolled in the two-year business program and will graduate this year. He hopes to continue wrestling in the future although at this time his plans are indefinite.

Any goals? "I want to be regional champ." Short but to the point.

Advance Registration will take place Feb. 9-13. Details next week.

so shared by arranger Bert De Coteaux who even makes a string section sound like a natural blues sound (The strings on The Thrill is Gone sound like a pool of swamp water, and Bs guitar and singing come floating slowly over like a cloud of smoke). There is so much here that one wouldn't expect, and it all turns out beautifully, you can hear B and the sidemen joking with each other, he sounds happy, looks great, and its all there on record, only records that capture complete levels of experience can be accurately called recordings. Completely Well is surely a fine recording.

Onorato's Crew Pins DuBois

"It was great." These were the words of Coach Ed Onorato when asked about the wrestling match last Friday against DuBois. The Behrend matmen went into the match determined to win and they did 31-10. This was the most aggressive the Cubs have been this season and they didn't give the opponents any opportunity whatsoever of striking back.

The Cubs had to forfeit the 118 lb. class and after Bill Groner's 8-1 decision, Onorato was still worried and uncertain. It wasn't until after Paul Vaughn's 7-7 tie with Dave Nelson, when the Cubs only led by 1 point that Onorato and the team began to relax a little. Three Behrend pins in a row followed to keep the Cubs on the winning side. First Joe Hake pinned Jim McKee in the second period in the 150 lb. class. At 158 Tom Garson pinned Art Boughten with 15 seconds remaining in the match after having Boughten in a cross body on his back for over 2 minutes. Bob Wilcosy got sick of losing and took immediate control for his first victory of the year against Scott Daelhousen with a pin in 1:20. Next Dennis McDougale won by decision 9-3 followed by the 55 second pin of Bill Bauer over John Camise in the 191 lb. class. The only lost for the Cubs came in the heavy-weight division when Steve Samic decisioned Len Coover 7-4 in a hard fought contest.

Overall, the Cubs showed great team effort and team spirit. They were really fired up.
