

THAT WAS THE WEEK THAT WAS

"Communication Breakdown"

Orientation for Frosh?!?

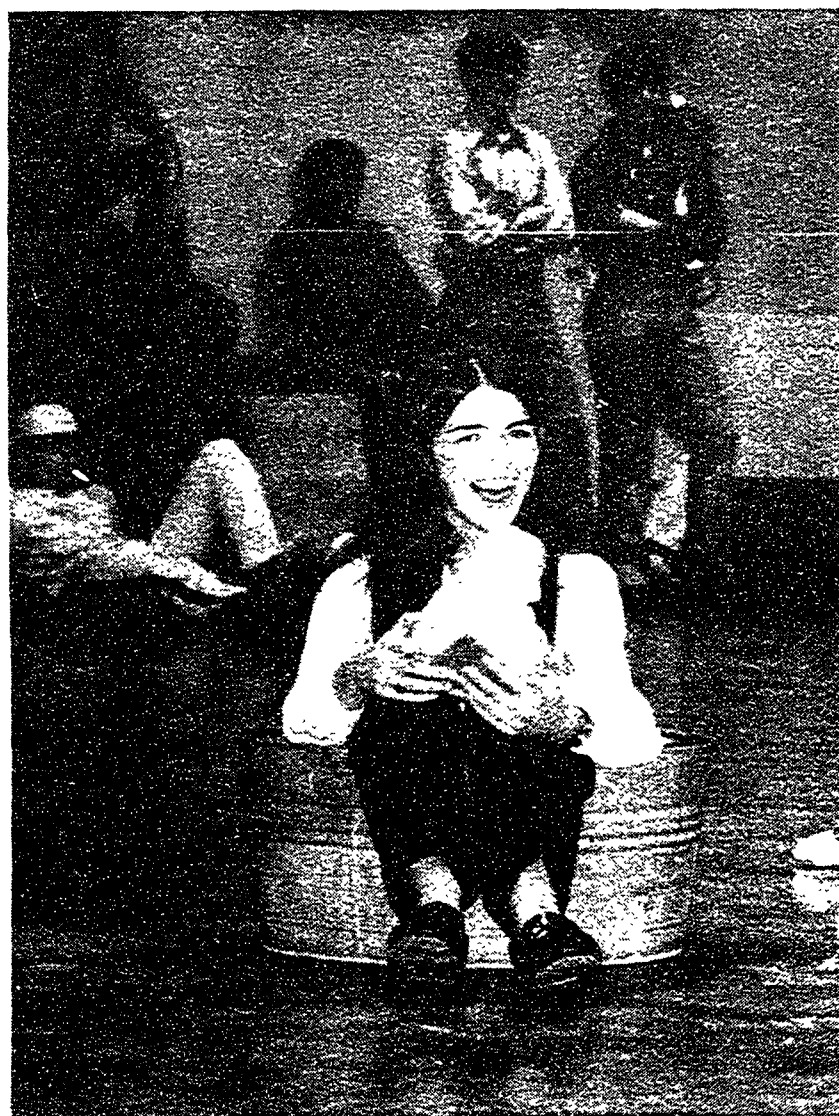

"Don't you dare O.B.!!"

Frosh must be good for more than this!

Wow Roy! Someone really laid one on ya'.

Mickey Mouse with a Rubber Duckie?

(Continued from Page 1)
BUTTON.....
 the agony connected with that loathsome yet fulfilled ritual called "customs".
 Co-chairmen Roy Fronzaglia and Ken Mushrush headed the rite as defenseless freshmen were subjected to a myriad of rules and regulations. The dress code alone, which included a dink, mismatched socks, bow tie, and name card, provided for a most unusual if not interesting week. The Freshman Oath and Penn State songs were rendered by unwilling freshmen, all to the delight of the revengeful upperclassmen.

 The "Big Bash" on Friday night provided a fitting end with "kangeroo Court". And the freshmen topped it all off with a variety show for the upperclassmen on Saturday evening.

 Orientation Week is over now, and everyone must settle down to academic life. But if Orientation Week is an indication of things to come on the social calendar, the cry of "nothing to do" may well become extinct on the Behrend Campus!