

Gary Borowy drives in for a bucket against Shenango as Chuck Donnell (50) moves in.

Where was Behrend's student body when it came time to sign-up for a bus to the Shenango play-off game at DuBois? Beaver Campus brought a busload of students to Behrend for a regular season game. Behrend's in the play-offs for the Commonwealth Tournament and we didn't have enough fans sign-up to fill a Volkswagon! . . . Doug Zimmerman, former Behrend athlete, was an All-East round-ball selection last week for the second time this season. . . It will be interesting to see how Curt Flood does with the Washington Senators, this season after his one-year lay-off. Senators have quite the duo in Flood and Denny McLain, the two "bad boys" of baseball. . . Cleveland Cavaliers have the rights to draft five of the first forty collegiate stars topped by the NBA this season. They'll need all five. . . The men with all the facts and figures have installed the Baltimore Orioles as pre-season favorites to repeat in the American League. The National League has yet to come but should be quite the conversation piece when it does. . .

Joe Frazier has finally spoken out on his upcoming fight with Muhammed Ali. Joe seems more than confident that Ali will be counting cuts and bruises after the fight — rather than awards and trophies. It's a battle between the quick and fluid (Ali) vs. the brutal bruizer (Frazier). I look for Muhammed to end this one with a knockout sometime after the seventh round.

Nittany Lions Tangle Panthers

UNIVERSITY PARK, PA., February - "It's very satisfying for a coach to have a team give a full effort."

That was Penn State wrestling coach Bill Koll's reaction to his team's 26 - 9 rout of Lehigh last week.

"I'm not saying that everybody wrestled up to their full capabilities," Koll notes, "but we had a good effort from everybody."

The good effort resulted in three pins, a couple of upsets and a 9 - 0 - 1 record going into the final dual meet of the season at Pitt on Saturday (February 27). The Lions are undefeated in their last 24 dual meets.

"Pitt will be tough," Koll says. "They have had a number of injuries and other problems, but they have recruited a lot of talent in the last few years and they have some depth."

Pitt (8 - 2 - 1) has lost a number of its top wrestlers through injuries. In addition, three men withdrew from school and 142-pounder Mark Payne was dropped from the squad.

"Before the season started, I thought this match was going to be the match of the year," Panther coach Davey Adams said this week, "but Penn State's tough matches are over now."

Koll isn't ready to buy that.

"This should be a tough match," the Lion coach counters. "There are some good matchups. They can make their season by beating us."

"On to Shenango." These were the words of Coach Marty Malkin, after Behrend had convincingly defeated Beaver 103-88. This victory vaulted Behrend into a section-tie with Shenango Campus. The game was played at Dubois on February 23, as a part of a doubleheader which also featured Fayette vs. New Kensington who also tied in their respective sections. The winners of the games will compete in the Commonwealth Campus Tournament at New Kensington February 26 and 27.

Coach Malkin had praise for the three stars of the game. "Borowy, McKinney, and Burnett put together a fantastic performance. I was quite pleased with our zone-press, and the physical contact displayed underneath. If we play like we did tonight, we should have no problem handling Shenango."

The trio of Gary Borowy, Ike Burnett, and Glenn McKinney combined for a total of 81 points. Borowy canned 28 points, and pulled down 12 clutch rebounds. The quarterback of the team, Glenn McKinney, put on a great second-half show, scoring 22 of his 28 points.

Ike Burnett, however, was the biggest asset to the Behrend attack. The hustling Burnett, gathered in at least a half-dozen steals, 6 assists and 25 points.

Behrend and Beaver started the game off even. The two teams swapped buckets early in the game, and it appeared the game was going to be a see-saw battle.

But with the score 12-11 in Behrend's favor, Coach Malkin called time-out, and told the boys now is the time for the zone-press.

Malkin's press caused numerous Beaver turnovers, followed by Burnett's lay-up, Borowy's tip-in and McKinney's jumper to hike the lead 21-13.

Beaver's Bentley countered with two corner jump shots to cut the lead to 4. This is when Burnett went into his act.

Ike canned a 30 foot jumper, stole 2 passes and set up a Porath drive to up the lead to 10, a lead which Behrend never relinquished.

Porath's steal and feed to Kwasneski; tip-ins by Borowy and Burnett, followed by McKinney's full court drive, ended the first-half which saw Behrend lead 48-39.

Both teams started off cold in the second-half but McKinney calmed the Cub Five down to secure the lead. Glenn hit two patented set-shots, a driving lay-up, and set Burnett up for a bucket.

Borowy then tore a rebound out of the hands of 6-8 Williford, and drew a two shot shoving foul to up Behrend's lead 55-46.

Burnett took over at this point. Ike tipped one in over two opponents, and then intercepted a pass to feed Donnell underneath. His defensive barrage ended with yet another stolen pass that set up Borowy's three point play to hike the lead 67-49.

McKinney controlled the rest of the game with his driving lay-ups, and set shots as Behrend was never in any serious trouble.

Bob Hoffman's pass to Porath and a 1 and 1 conversion by Doug Nelson ended the Behrend scoring as the Cubs passed the century mark, 103-88.

The 6 foot 8 in. Williford was tops for Beaver with 27 points.

Behrend ended its regular season in a sour note, dropping its record to 9-11. Behrend lost the game to a powerful Edinboro Freshman team 117-99 at Edinboro last Saturday. Roy Stauffer was the game's top scorer with 38 points. Ron Kwasneski paced the Cubs with 26 markers. Also hitting double-figures were Gary Borowy (23 points), Glenn McKinney (24 points), and Ike Burnett (12 points).

Behrend Five Faces NJCAA

by Mike McGinley CUB Sports Editor

Five Behrend matmen are setting their sights on Camden, New Jersey, where the N.J.C.A.A. Regional wrestling tournament will be held, this Friday and Saturday, February 26-27. Coach Ed Onorato will head the biggest squad ever to represent this campus in a regional wrestling tournament. Wrestling for Behrend will be 118 lb., Mark Hedges, with a 4-4 record, 126 lb., Dave Proctor, 4-2; John Fessler, 134 lb., 4-4; 150 lb. Tom Garson, 3-4; and 158 lb., Paul Jazenski, 4-2.

Tom Garson is the only grappler returning to the regionals from last year. Tom was 6-2 in dual matches last year but failed to place in the regionals. "Paul Jazenski is the best wrestler we've ever taken to the regionals," commented Coach Onorato. "His biggest barrier will be Nowakowski of Boyce Campus. John Fessler is our most improved wrestler on the team. He is a hard worker and capable of beating anybody when well. John will wrestle in one of the best weight classes in our region along with Dave Proctor at 126 lbs. Proctor is a good, sound wrestler who makes very few mistakes. Dave must stay healthy to do well in the regionals. Mark Hedges wrestles very hard, but mistakes have cost him three of his four losses."

Summarizing Behrend's fate in the regionals, Mr. Onorato said, "I feel we're taking a well balanced squad, which, will score some points for us. I expect at least two of the wrestlers to place in the tournament."

Behrend has only had one wrestler place in a regional tournament, that was Bill Groner, who lost in the 1969 semi-finals.

One of the top matches will be at 158 pounds where Lion captain Clyde Frantz puts his 10 - 0 record on the line against Pitt's John Chatman (9 - 1), a two-time PIAA champion.

Andy Matter, the Lion's undefeated (10 - 0) 167-pound junior, will meet Jim Fleming (5 - 2). Another interesting match has Penn State's Dana Balum (6 - 3 - 1) against Dave Wylie (8 - 2) at 134 pounds.

Lion heavyweight Dave Joyner has taken over the team leadership in team points scored. Joyner has seven pins and a forfeit win included in his 9 - 1 record for 43 points. Frantz and Matter each have accounted for 42 points.

The Lions edged Pitt, 17 - 16, last year to take a 19 - 7 - 2 lead in a series that started in 1914.

Hard Corp. Cleans Up

The Behrend Hard Corp. captured the boys' intramural basketball championship with two overtime victories last Saturday. The two playoff victories came against the East Side Keggers, 32 - 30, and the Huskies, 39 - 36. The Hard Corp. finished the season undefeated at 9 - 0.

Team members were: Ed Buchan, Ralph Campbell, John Cartus, Craig Johnson, Jim Belich, Don Wellbrock, Jan Reich, Benjy Conover, Rich Schwartz, John Temple, Sig Soneson and Rick Kenny.
