Talented Musician Stars At Coffee House

Bill Puka, talented song writer and musician, is going places in the music world. But before he does, Bill Puka will appear before Behrend audiences on March 11 at 9 and 10 p.m. and March 12 and 13 at 10, 11, and 12 p.m. in the RUB dining hall.

Bill's musical career began just recently when he recorded his own songs on a Columbia record entitled Bill Puka. His works show jazz influences musically, and heavy Southern influences lyrically. They describe feeling and emotions which all of us have had, but which very few of us could say out loud. Bill describes his own work as bordering on "earthy."

Before Columbia happened to him, Bill earned several degrees at Hofstia, Rutgers, and Brown Universities. He was awarded a teaching fellowship at Harvard, where he instructed philosophy while continuing his own studies in philosophy and psychotherapy. He is presently finishing his thesis paper for graduate school, and plans to continue teaching.

Bill began writing songs to accompany his own puppet show at Brown, through which he supported himself at grad school. Gradually his songs became more personal expressions of his own emotional experiences. Bill plans to follow up his first cut with at least 2 more recordings.

Right now, Bill Puka is playing the Coffee House Circuit at Behrend on March 11, 12, and 13. Admission is free with activity card and 50 cents without. Come early, you might end up staying for all three shows. Bill Puka.

faculty members (who helped many to learn many things, showed the way towards different perspectives, taught the value of knowing and showed interest)... good students (the warmth of friendship, the hope for a future, concern for others, the search for so much).

"...in a soldier's stance I aimed my hand at the mongrel dogs who teach, during night I become my enemy, in the instant that I preach... good and bad I define these terms, quite clear, no doubt somehow, ah but I was so much older then, I'm younger than that now."

students want to hear. This includes a general program which will consist of jazz, classical, and current popular forms of music. They will also have a news and sports department which will work in conjunction with the Nittany Cub. They are also hoping to rent a UPI teletype machine to bring the current news first hand to Behrend.

People will be needed for all these areas along with people who will write material and engineer the station. Anyone interested should attend the Radio Club meetings in the Studio every Tuesday during Common Hour. Any opinions or ideas on raising money, programming, or other aspects of the radio station would be greatly appreciated and are also needed.

Vets To Form Organization

Dean of Student Affairs Benjamin A. Lane called a meeting of all veterans on campus in the Otto Behrend Building for the purpose of starting a veterans organization on campus.

Of the 85 veterans on campus, 16 attended the meeting. The organization, if it gets off the ground, will be a very loosely knit type. It will probably work in conjunction with another organization called PAVE, which helps discharged veterans readjust to civilian life and get back into school. It may also counsel people who are considering enlistment in the armed forces.

All those interested should go to the next meeting which will assemble in the lobby of the Behrend Building next Tuesday during Common Hour.

CLUB CORNER

Cwens

Delta-Behrend Cwens are expressing concern for the resident students by preparing C.A.R.E. packages, which will contain snacks. These survival kits are to be distributed to the students before the last week of school. The packages, paid for by the students' parents, are designed to ease the tension of the final days of the term.

President, Krystal Angevine, has announced that the Society will sponsor a combination Coffee House-Fashion Show during the beginning of Spring Term. Local students both male and female, will do the modeling.

Also during Spring Term, the current Cwens will be selecting and tapping the Cwens for next year. Five per cent of the freshmen women population will be considered in respect to scholarship, promise of leadership, activeness in campus organizations, and the ability to get along with others.

The new Cwens will be given the honor of the Gifts of Kinship, the Necklace, Acquaintance, Love, and the Witan. They will be initiated at a special feast, in the Anglo-Saxon tradition.

Keystone Society

Keystone Society is also busy with the thought of selecting new freshmen members. Their initiation ceremony is scheduled for April 19. Application forms are being distributed by present Keystone members and the RUB desk. They must be turned into the desk by April 12.

New freshmen members will be able to help with the annual Honors and Awards Banquet, which is the largest activity of the Society. Plans for the Banquet are currently being made.

Money will be raised during Spring Term by such projects as car washes.

Circle K Book Sale

The Circle K Book Sale will take place in the Seminar Room on April 1, 2, 5, and 6. Books will be collected before this term ends and any time during the sale. Receipts will be given for the books.

The sale will run the same as last term. Anyone wishing to buy or sell books can come to the Seminar Room during the sale to choose from the selection of books.

Prices will be set by the seller. Circle K will take out a small fee of about 25 cents of each of the books sold.

This is the time the student can sell their old books without any hassle and save money on buying books at the same time. The more students that participate, the more students that will benefit. If you want to get your books in early sale, call Jack Richenbacher, 899-7975, or Tom Brunner, 899-7801.

Al Capp Appears At Warner Theatre

Al Capp will appear on March 25, 1971, at 8:00 p.m. in the Warner Theater. His topic of the evening will be "Selling America". In his efforts the "Ultra Conservative" will draw on questions submitted by the audience at the time of ticket purchase. Efforts are being made to have microphones in the audience, and there will be time for questioning. If you desire a (censored) preview of the creator of L'il Abner watch channel 12, WICU TV, Erie on Sunday, March 7, at 5:00 p.m. for NBC's "This is Al Capp."

they showed wasn't about little pigs, it was produced by little pigs."

We challenge you to challenge you to challenge Al Capp.

Student tickets are $4.00. For tickets, send a self-addressed stamped envelope to Tickets, 222 West 5th St., Erie, Pa., 16507. See you March 25.

Players Plan Spring Term

Behrend Players are planning something new and exciting for cash in the Spring Term—a children's play. The show is called "Trudy and the Minstrel," and will "tour" some of the local elementary schools and will be performed on a Saturday afternoon here on campus.

It's a chance for any student who likes children and excitement to experience something great.

Try-outs will be held Monday, March 15 from 7:30 to 9:00 and Tuesday, March 16 during the 4th period common hour.

Roles are available for witches, soldiers, trolls, gypsies, mermaids and "heads".
