WARNINGS?

To those of you who are in doubt about four-week warning grades, here is a little explanation. These grades, available at your advisor's office, tend to show a weakness in some particular subject. If any of you receive any of these warning grades, it is advisable to see your instructor to determine just what the trouble might be.

FIRST SIGN OF SPRING

In spite of all the snow that has been falling the past week, spring is definitely here. Proof of this may be seen in the bookstore. For on the window sill are lilac and forsythia plants ready to burst into bloom, and on their branches are tiny birds of all sorts. Burgess Faux, one of our able custodians, gets the credit for all this.

Convinced now?

HITCH ON THE BANDWAGON

A campaign for 'Keep Your Cafeteria Clean' is on. The principles of the platform are:

- Return all dirty dishes to the kitchen.
- Keep the tables clean.
- Throw away all lunch bags and papers.

So let's get on the bandwagon and give Irene and Mrs. Smith our support.

A LOOK IN THE LIBRARY

So many new history books have been acquired by the library, that it has become necessary to add a new rack in the 900 room. Students should have little trouble finding an interesting book for a history report now.

The library has been kept busy this semester. It seems that book reports are an important part of several courses including Comp 5, Soc, Lit 21, and as usual History. So, if you need a book for a report, come in and see us.

WHAT WOULD YOU CHOOSE?

Human beings are funny things. They always want something different from what they have. This is even true of names. Many people don't really like the names given them by their parents. What name a person would give himself and why reveals something about his character. What it reveals, we don't know; but since psychologists find something revealing in everything, it's sure to reveal something interesting. Since this is such an interesting question, we asked a few of the students what name they would choose for themselves and why. Here are the results:

- Marlene Haegele - Cynthia, because it's not very common and it sounds nice.
- Dale Walker - Marilyn, after Marilyn Monroe. At least I'd be in better shape than I'm in right now.
- Joe Fierro - I'm happy with the name I've got.
- Mike Ohl - Rob Roy - I want to get even with the Irish. (We don't get the connection)
- Mary Jane Skoff - Cynthia, because it sounds so sophisticated. (There's been no consulting on these answers, so what's with the name Cynthia that makes it so popular?)
