INGLISH DELLET INT LOARD

The English Department here at Highacres, through Mr. Andrew Kafka, has announced the recent addition of a handsome roomy "Julietin Teard" in South Hall.

The essence of the accession is illustrated by a colorful, pictorial poster which has as its theme "En lish laves the ay." This, of course, relates to the benefits that a better command of En lish can provide in some occupations. The facilities and aid offerred by the department should be of great interest to be insering and fusiness administration Students as well as to Liberal Arts Students.

Currently being featured on the bulletin board are:

- 1. Shakespeare-Marlowe Controversy
- 2. Con ressional Favorites in Foctry
 Senator Estes Kefauver favors
 "A Frayer to by Enemies," by
 Sir Thomas More.
- 3. Hamlet tours the world (even nussia,)
- 4. Business Tacties
- 5. "Poetry" magazine rescued by the help of businessmen.

Ty all means, the caricature of "contentment in the World of Fooks," should precipitate student action in acquiring a vast source of reference material and entertainment.

Pr. Kafka, Pr. ilcox, Piss bod, and Miss Dosenbach wish to extend the same facilities and benefits of the "English workshop" to all during the coming spring semester.

Contributions to the "English Department Bullotin Poard" will be accepted through your English teacher. It is worth the stroll over to South Hall to keep up to date with the recent developments in English via the Bulletin Loard.
