ARE YOU A MESSER?

A 'messenger' is a person who continually leaves things in a terrible mess. Here at school, the messers seem to do most of their work in the dining room during the lunch rush. You can see the work of the messers-trash all over the tables and floors, dishes left on the table, cigarette ashes on saucers and the floor, and writing and drawings on the tables.

Do you do things like that at home? Would you sit down to a dirty, messy table at home without complaining? Then why not complain here? If you see a 'messenger' at work, just walk over to him or her and remind them that other people wish to use the tables. Tell them that the dirty dishes are to be returned to the kitchen. Tell them that ash trays are provided for cigarette ashes instead of using dishes on the floor. Tell them that trash cans are conveniently located for their waste paper. Tell them also that only children write on furniture and walls.

Don't be a messenger. With a little cooperation from everyone our dining room can be kept reasonably clean during the rush hour.
