

FINAL AVERAGES (con't)

ARE: Thomas Dougherty, 3.39; Robert Soltis, 3.35; Charles Bradish, 3.30; Theodore Tarone, 3.29; Lawrence Delaney, 3.28; Joseph Fedzuga and Carl Dragonette, 3.12; and Robert Gerber, 3.00.

COUNCIL AMENDMENT (con't)

Chief among these is Mr. Kowalski's proposed Student Court. Pointing out that it is unfair for the same people who give a ticket to decide if the ticket was deserved, Mr. Kowalski introduced an amendment establishing a five-man student court, to which such appeals could be taken.

If the Student Faculty Board opposes the amendments, Student Council must still act on them before they become official. The student body, by petition, can demand a vote on the amendments.

COUNCIL MEETING FRIDAY

There will be a meeting of Student Council 4th. period Friday in Room 208. The public is invited.

ENGLISH WORKSHOP CONTINUES

The facilities and aid offered by the English workshop of our English Department continues. Mr. Kafka, Mr. Wilcox, Miss Dosenbach, and Miss Wood wish to extend the same benefits of the English Workshop to all during the Spring semester. The Hours are listed on the office doors of the English faculty members. (or by appointment.)

ENGLISH BULLETIN BOARD

Our English Department here at Highacres, through Mr. Andrew Kafka, has announced the recent addition of a new Bulletin Board in South Hall.

These interesting items are currently featured on the Bulletin Board:

1. The private life of a $32,000 quiz winner, whose literary heart belongs to Charles Dickens.
2. The Shakespeare-Marlowe controversy.
3. Members of the United States Congress select their favorite poems.
4. Shakespeare's Hamlet tours the world (even Russia.)
5. The magazine Poetry "rescued" with the help of business men.
6. "English Paves the Way" (a colorful poster with its theme on how the study of English can provide jobs.
7. "The Wonderful World of Books," a friendly caricature.
8. Few words that cause most errors in spelling.

Contributions to the English Department Bulletin Board will be accepted through your English teachers.

It is worth the stroll over to South Hall to keep up-to-date with recent developments in English, Literature, and the humanities in general, via the Bulletin Board.

CONGRATULATIONS!!!

On Saturday, February 11, 1956, at Mahanoy City, Miss Mary Brennan of that city and Daniel M. Miernicki of Brandonville, were married.

The groom is a second semester electrical engineering student at Highacres.
