

October 8, 1956

Page 3

FROM MR. SCHNEIDER (cont')

help the individual, and a closeness of spirit typical of the smaller institution. Your immediate assignment is to take advantage of these factors and make each one work toward your success. The faculty and staff are here to help you reach that goal.

* * * * *

HIGHACRES CHORUS IN REHEARSALS

The reorganization of a group is always a much anticipated event. The Collegian has been informed that the Highacres College Community Chorus is now in the process of being reorganized under the direction of Miss Pearl Garbrick, assistant professor of music at Highacres.

A sizable group of approximately thirty has already met three times in the past few weeks. This group represents the great interest shown by people from this area, for many of the members are from the fringe of the Hazleton region. There are members (both students, high-school students, and interested adults) from Hazleton, Free-land, Weatherly, and Mcadoo, and Tamaqua. One young man in particular is to be commended on his interest, for he faithfully hitch-hikes from Nuremberg to participate in the weekly rehearsal!

This year, as in the previous year, the chorus is hard at work preparing Handel's Messiah for the coming Christmas season.

(cont'd Page 4)

When the following instructors were asked where they went this summer, and what their most pleasant experience was, we received a variety of answers. Here are a few:

Mr. Longo: Toured New York, New England and Canada.
Most pleasant experience: Relaxing at a New England beach.

Mr. Zerbe: Attended The Mathematics Institute of the New England Association of Mathematics at Williams College in Williamstown, Mass.
Most pleasant experience: Learning something new.

Mr. Willis: Carpenter work at State College.
Most pleasant experience: Watching a house materialize from a stack of lumber.

Mrs. Bodenstein: Teaching summer school at Stephen F. Austin State College in Texas.
Most pleasant experience: Enjoying the return of my daughter to Texas after an absence of a year.

Mr. Steel: New England and New Orleans.
Most pleasant experience: Train ride to New Orleans, dinner at Antoinette's, and a boat ride up the Mississippi River.