DEITCH ANNOUNCES PROGRAM

By Carol Milko

Newly elected president of the Freshman Class, Calvin Deitch, upon being interviewed recently, asserted his plans and reforms for the present semester.

Mr. Deitch announced that a proposal is underway to hold an affair which will support the construction of a Student Union Building. In the past, a few such endeavors were planned but did not materialize. Proper support from the student body may make this building a reality.

Also planned, is the continuation of an intermural program which had been organized last year in place of the school basketball team. This team was originally affiliated with the Keystone Basketball League. Discontinuation was due to lack of support from the student body. Mr. Deitch believes that the students are very much in favor of an intermural system and avows that everything will be done in order to have one.

The remainder of Deitch's program consists of the possible pavement of the parking lot, alteration of its traffic problem, football excursions to University Park, and better dances which will be supplied with constant vigilance when outsiders are concerned.

FRENDUTO ADVOCATES PROGRESS

By
Jacqueline Kessel

Frank Frenduto, newly elected president of the Sophomore Class and Student Council of Highacres, has set the banner of progress as the one to be upheld by the student body during his tenure in office.

Frank, the flying chemist, believes that this is the year for determined progress forward in all phases of college life at Highacres. To initiate this trend to bigger and better things, Mr. Frenduto has arranged for the Student Council to sponsor a football trip to the main campus. The council will not only provide free transportation for interested students, but is also underwriting one dollar toward the cost of each ticket.

This Friday, October 26, will find Frank welcoming all students to the Halloween Party, which he promises will be bigger and better than ever.

After interviewing Mr. Frenduto in order to determine his views on class activities, it is this reporter's opinion that the students have elected both an able and dynamic leader. How long this year's activities will be remembered at Highacres will depend on the support the student body is willing to give their new president. If the students will attend and participate in the activities planned for them, the year should promise to be both educational and recreational for all.
