

THE PARNASSUS INITIATION

by Jacqueline Kessel

Have you ever wondered what the Parnassus Honor Society is? It is a society to enrich student life at the Highacres Campus, encouraging both academic study and positive participation in organized activities. Membership is open to those students who have completed one or more semesters of college work, and who have an all-college average of 2.5, plus active participation in at least two activities.

At the annual fall initiation ceremony held on Wednesday, January 30, 1957, in Highacres Main Lounge, Miss Lyla Berish, Miss Joann Kenvin, Miss Martha Preputnick, and Mr. Karl Rekas became members of the society.

If at the end of the twelve-weeks period, a student attains an all-college average of 2.80 and participates in two activities, that student is entitled to pledgeship. Miss Rosemary Arlotto has been pledged to the society and is well on her way to fulfill the requirements for full membership.

The members of the society are delighted to have Professor Pearl Garbrick of the Highacres Music Department as their Faculty Adviser.

WOMEN'S SERVICE CLUB

HEARS H.U.C. PANEL

by David Snyder

A panel discussion on the subject, "Classmates Today - Neighbors Tomorrow," took place at the regular meeting of the Women's Service Club of the Jewish Community Center at 8:30 Tuesday evening.

The panel consisted of four students from Pennsylvania State University, Hazle Center, at Highacres. The program was arranged by Professor Richard McKinstry, professor of Psychology at Highacres, as part of the national celebration of Brotherhood month.

Participating in the discussion were Highacres students Mary Merker, Rosemary Arlotto, Robert Petruska and Richard Hildebrand.

VETERANS

All veterans affairs at Highacres are handled at the College Bookstore. If you need any information concerning your benefits, inquire at the bookstore.
