KEEPING UP WITH STUDENT ACTIVITIES

gests that the students aid the faculty in a Clean-Up Day to be held prior to the festive day. We will have more to report on Clean-Up Day as the weeks progress. The students are asked to voice their opinions concerning Clean-Up Day by leaving letters at the Collegian office or by visiting Mr. McKinstry to voice their opinions in person.

THE LENTEN SEASON

The Lenten season has a tremendous effect on Christians in that a personal identification is more realistically made with their beliefs. There are also many peripheral benefits which are appropriate for the student to recognize. As he participates in a recognition of Lent, he usually introspects and thus becomes more aware of himself. As he participates, he disciplines himself to a moral type of self-judgment, identifying how honest he is with himself. The perseverative effects of self-discipline, not to the point of rigidity, but in the sense of morals, goals, experience satisfaction and independent opinions (not in the sense of "group-defying", but as individuality.) are magnificent toward maturity. The Lenten season helps one to "Know Thyself."

The College-Community Chorus, under the direction of Professor Garbrick, is open to all students at Highacres, as well as all persons in the community who like to sing and enjoy the better choral music. For several hours each Tuesday evenings, the chorus usually meets in the music room at Highacres. This semester the group is preparing the oratorio by Felix Mendelssohn to be presented at the First Presbyterian Church Auditorium in Hazleton on May 21, 1957 at 8:30 P.M. If you enjoy music, you should plan to attend.

The Fencing Club endeavors to teach their student members the art and practice of attack and defense with the foil. The participants develop a keen eye, quick reflexes, and agility. Points are scored between duelists by merely touching the opponents body with the tip of the foil. The club meets every Monday and Tuesday during the third and fourth periods in S-101. You can still secure club membership or you are invited to just drop in to see some exciting action.

The Theta Sigma Pi Sorority meets every other Thursday evening in the Highacres Main Lounge. At the present time, a frenzy of activity is in process, for the girls are preparing for the forthcoming May Day Coronation. The Queen is to be selected at the election of March 25. She will be crowned in the gaily decorated court on our Highacres lawn on May 11, 1957. There will be music and dancing for Her Majesty, and a Ball will be held in her honor that evening at the Eagles Ball Room. Fellows, get your favorite queen and attend the festivities on May 11.
