

FENCING CLUB MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN

Students have been asking more and more about the Fencing Club. This interesting organization, the second newest in the campus (the newest being the Belle-Littres), has not been exceedingly active this semester. However, with the coming of spring a renewed interest in the club is expected, and Jack Sotack, senior instructor, along with the cadet officers of the A.F.R.O.T.C. is opening a campaign for new members. All persons interested in learning this romantic sport are requested to visit Squadron Headquarters and fill out membership blanks (it doesn't hurt a bit). An additional incentive, on the part of the A.F.R.O.T.C. cadets, for joining is the fact that merits (those things that counter-act demerits) are given for active membership. Now, lets all hurry down to Sq. Hdq. and sign up before the quota is filled and the drive is closed.

ANOTHER RESEARCH BUREAU FIRST

The HIGHACRES Research Bureau, an affiliate of the COLLEGIAN, is, as you know, always searching for better and easier ways to do everything through all methods, including dishonest ones. Being a privately financed organization, it does not often come into the eye of the general public. However, recent experiments are sure to give this association its due credit. These experiments are, in one sense, revolutionary. On the other hand, in another sense, they really aren't, in fact they're boring. Unfortunately, the results of these experiments are not available to the general public at this time, although they are being discussed on every street corner, however, the information is available to all students and faculty members cleared through the Student Council sub-committee on the investigation of subversives and ratholes, headed by that brilliant professor of home economics, Mr. K.Q.Bishop. We think this information is worth the trouble of being cleared, but we aren't sure, for none of us up here were cleared.

ART EXHIBIT WILL BE DISPLAYED HERE

An exhibit of paintings by the members of the Art and Art Education faculties at the Main Campus will open next week at the Hazleton Art League galleries.

Co-sponsored by the Hazleton Art League and us, the exhibit will open at a private preview from 2 to 4pm Sunday, May 4th.

The exhibit will open for public viewing from 7 to 9pm Monday, May 5th, through Friday, May 9th, and from 2 to 4pm Saturday, May 10th.

Refreshments will be served at the private viewing.

The exhibit will consist of about 20 paintings in both oils and water.

This exhibit has been shown throughout the state. Recent exhibitions have been held at the Ogontz campus, at the Unitarian Church in Pittsburgh, and at the Almondt campus.

Arrangements for the exhibit have been made by a joint committee comprised of members of the Art League and our faculty. Mrs Richard Bigelow of the Art League and Professor Preston D. Peightal are co-chairmen of the committee.

Assisting with arrangements are the College Arts Society with John Bernard, student president, and A. Gordon Wilson, faculty advisor, and our Library committee, with Professor Peightal as chairman.
