

IS SHE ALL SHE? (CONTINUED)

Jig-saw puzzles of cloth, elastic, strings, hooks and zippers to "hold you in, push you out, lift up and hold up your stockings, too."

Stockings whose shade varies to give an illusion of curves where none exist and to visually correct bow legs or knock knees.

And girdles with enough padding to take all the fun out of nasty tricks, like poisoning a thumb tack on the secretary's chair.

And speaking of that, where will it all end?

Will the poor male forget what women really look like beneath the trappings of scientific America?

It started with Eve and that fig leaf.

The only hope now is that science may come up with some gadget like a geiger counter that buzzes like mad to detect the difference between a store manikin and a real, live, breathing Sue with shape so true.

COMMUNITY CHORUS ORGANIZES

The Penn State Community Chorus consists of members of the surrounding community and of Penn State faculty and students.

Rehearsals are held every Tuesday at 7:30 in the Student Union Building. There are still openings for new members.

The concert program as proposed will feature THE MESSIAH by Handel and another piece not as yet selected. The performance is scheduled for the early part of December.

Miss Pearl Garbrick is the directress of the chorus.

Famed Frothy Forced From Football Field.

It couldn't happen to a nicer guy—Frothy has been barred from Beaver Field football games.

The walking advertisement for the low-life campus "humor" magazine had cavorted for many years. Once in a while he had too much fun and virtually brought the game to a standstill.

Ernest B. McCoy, dean of the College of Physical Education, said yesterday the action was taken at the meeting of the Athletic Advisory Board Friday.

"Frothy was not connected with athletics," McCoy said, "and he had no business on the field." McCoy said the jester-dressed clown had "caused trouble in the past."

So Frothy and football games have parted-like a fool and his money. Now if someone would separate the magazine itself from Penn State they'd deserve the lasting gratitude of many a student.

SCULPTOR ARRIVES LATE; FINDS AUDIENCE EATING

Students and faculty members who had been waiting an hour in the Hetzel Union Building Sunday for a lecture by Adolph Dioda, exhibiting sculpturer, finally decided he was not coming and began to eat the reception refreshments.

NEW LIGHT THROWN ON DATING HABITS AT MAIN CAMPUS:

A new light was thrown on the University's dating problems last week when four 35-foot light poles were installed in the Hetzel Union parking lot.

Lights for the poles haven't arrived yet, but some students might not like the idea already.
