

SAFETY IS EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

It has been brought to the attention of the traffic committee that students are not observing the regulations for pedestrians on the campus driveways. As a reminder we repeat from the Traffic Rules, "Students walking up the hill will walk on the outside of the road (the right hand side going down; the left hand side coming up) not more than two abreast. Jaywalking will not be tolerated and will constitute a traffic violation."

This regulation is for your own protection--do not violate it. Flagrant disregard of this safety rule will result in a fine of $1.00.

The rule against parking on the circle or in the faculty parking area has not been resoundingly. Student cars are permitted in this area only while picking up or discharging passengers. Making a short while for a passenger with the motor running and the driver in attendance at the wheel will not be considered a parking violation.

The committee is aware that a definite traffic hazard exists for cars entering Route 29 from the main driveway or the lower exit of the parking lot. We offer the following as safety suggestions:
Come to a full stop before entering the highway.

When your engine is cold make certain that approaching traffic will not close with your vehicle before you have completed your acceleration to normal highway speed. Remember, a cold engine may "stall-out" if you attempt a rapid spurt to squeeze in ahead of approaching traffic.
If heading toward Hazleton, pull directly across the roadway to enter the right lane as quickly as possible.

With the approach of freezing weather and earlier sunsets, increased caution will be necessary. Be a reasonable driver!
Be a SAFE driver!

THE LAST WORD

The entire class yelled: "Beer!"
