HIGHACRES COLLEGIAN

New College Organized At P.S.U.

The College of Arts and Architecture, with Dr. Jules Heller as dean, will become operational at the beginning of the Winter term in January.

At its meeting, the Board of Trustees approved formation of the new college, which will include departments of art, architecture, landscape architecture, music, and theatre arts.

The art, music and theatre arts departments were the chief components of the School of Arts, an area of the College of the Liberal Arts since 1955, which will be discontinued.

Landscape architecture, a curriculum in the department of horticulture in the College of Agriculture, will become a department in the new college, with Wayne H. Wilson, professor of landscape architecture, as head of the department.

The department of architecture, of which Philip F. Hallock is acting head, is to be moved from the present College of Engineering and Architecture, which will be renamed the College of Engineering.

A department of architectural engineering has also been established in the College of Engineering, to be headed by Gifford H. Albright, associate professor of architectural engineering. The work in this area was carried on as a curriculum in the department of architecture in the past.

Dr. Heller, new dean of the College, served during the summers of 1955 and 1957 as visiting associate professor, while he was a member of the University of California faculty. He returned to the University in June, 1961, to succeed Albert Christ-Janer, who became head of the newly established School in February, 1956.

A graduate of the Arizona State College, with bachelor of arts degrees in fine arts and education, Dr. Heller was granted the master of arts degree by Columbia University and doctor of philosophy by the University of Southern California.

EDITORIAL

As everyone knows, the attendance at activities this year is minimal when compared to last year. This may, in effect, be due to lack of student interest in the particular types of entertainment offered. This we do not think is the case. A variety of activities has been offered with similar results poor attendance. Lectures, films, and dances have taken up all but one Friday night spot, with none of these gaining much success.

SGA is perplexed. It is trying its utmost to promote more participation. An example of this is the new Communications Box to enable clubs, students, and faculty members to have their interests announced via the PA System and colorful posters. The recent coffee hour was but one more example of how YOUR SGA is working for YOU.

It has been evidenced that record hops are less of a success than our "big" dances. It has been cited that we have been spoiled by having too many small dance bands. Can't we be content to have a majority of record hops with only two or three "big" dances per term?"

The Social Committee is following a very close budget, but at the same time trying to do the most with what it has.

STUDENT POLL: Is OI' Miss Right or Wrong?

Mr. Robert Haas, 5th term B.A. —"According to the Constitution of the United States, all men are equal in the sight of the law. Therefore, Meredith should have the same privileges as a white person, especially to an education, and since Old Miss is a land grant institution, being partially supported by the state."

Miss Annetta Long, 1st term L.A. —"The problem shouldn't have arisen in the first place, but, once Meredith applied, he should have been admitted, provided that he met the requirements. The trouble is that people are not born with prejudice, they learn it."

Dennis Kovach, 1st term Coun. —"It all occurred for the sake of the principle, not for the single case, but as a precedent for future cases."

Charles Kapes, 2nd term Special Student—"It is James Meredith's Constitutional and God-given right to attend the college of his choice."

Kathy Botchick, 1st term L.A.— "As long as it is a land grant college, getting aid from the government, which does not stipulate to whom the aid should be given, all persons, regardless of race, should be admitted."

Anita Fahringer, 1st term L.A. —"James Meredith met the requirements to be admitted to that university; therefore, he should be allowed to stay. However, with the demonstration his presence is causing, I think he should transfer to another school where he could avoid all this trouble."

Marie Melchiorre, 1st term Ag.— "A Negro has as much right to education as a white person."

Mr. Robert Yale, 4th term Chem. —"President Kennedy handled the situation elceedingly well. I feel integration should be advocated by all colleges."

PA. JR. COLLEGE ASS'N. MEETS

The Pennsylvania Association of Junior Colleges held its annual meeting at York Junior College in October. The following Highacres faculty members attended: Mr. Kostos, Mr. Schneider, Mrs. Bodenstein, Mr. Kafka, Mr. Crawford, Mr. Price, and Mr. McCallus. Mr. Kostos was elected to the executive board for the coming year.

Mrs. Bodenstein Attends Language Seminar at H'burg

GERMAN CONFERENCE . . .. Mrs. Elizabeth Bodenstein attended the fall meeting of the Central Pennsylvania Chapter of the American Association of Teachers which was held at Harrisburg on October 19. Members of the organization met with officials of the Foreign Language Division of the Department of Public Instruction. The group discussed the foreign language situation as it now stands in the schools of our Commonwealth. Group sessions were held to air problems on the elementary, secondary, and college levels. Dr. W. Stahl of the German Consulate of Philadelphia presented an interesting account of the educational aims in the schools of the German Federal Republic.

Beatnik Dance Success Hailed

Penn State students found their own answer to the "call of the wild" on Friday, October 19. A Beatnik Dance held in the S. U. B. provided the opportunity for the book-weary to get away from it all. With non-conformist juke box music and drab black decorations as a background, a sizable group enjoyed a brief excursion into the unburried beatnik world.

Blood Donors Aid Red Cross In Annual Drive

On Tuesday, October 30, four Highacres faculty members and twenty-seven students contributed blood to the Red Cross Blood Bank of Hazleton. This most worthy effort added much to aiding the Red Cross in fulfilling its donation quota, thus insuring an ample supply of the life-giving fluid for accident victims and surgery cases.

A vote of appreciation to the donors who were as follows: Mr. Robert Epler, Mr. Samuel Ross, Mrs. Elidabeth Bodenstein, Mrs. Mary Ferry; J. Scarcella, J. Brogan, E. Riley, J. Fulton, G. Chamberlain, D. Doyle, W. Petruska, R. Hauck, J. Salvaggio, D. Mariano, Jr., L. Martin, J. Sabolchick, A. Gasper, W. Pigler, V. Gennaro, W. Brazzo, P. Levkulic, H. Michael, J. Stoffa, B. Yohey, J. Jones, R. Keishner, W. Slattery, G. Mitchell, R. Corradini, L. Lash, and T. Pugliese.
