

Highacres Bowlers Lead Division

Chess, Ping-pong Games Tomorrow

While the division-leading bowling holds the spotlight in this weekend's inter-sectional sports meet here, chess and ping-pong activity will also be going strong on Saturday.

The Highacres teams in both fields will be competing with visiting teams from Wyomissing, DuBois and New Kensington.

Adding a note of interest to the chess competition will be the intercollegiate debut of John Timbrell, who this week was added to the squad through his success in eliminational contests on campus.

Other chessmen include W. Schreiner, J. Stumbar, and T. Evans.

Members of the ping-pong team were undecided upon as of this writing.

Cheering Squad Organized Here

Highacres sports fans have an added treat in store for them this season. A cheerleading squad has been organized to support our team. Betty Ann Acri will be the captain and Mr. McCallus the advisor of the newly formed group.

Miss Acri refuses to identify the members of the squad before the first game. She assures us that they have been hard at work creating new routines and special Highacres cheers.

The uniform will consist of an ensemble of blue and white with Penn State emblems.

Finally, Miss Acri expresses the hope that all students will actively support the team and their new cheerleaders during the coming season. Reminder: The first game will be versus the Wilkes-Barre Center, November 26, at the Hazleton High School Gym.

THETA SIGMA PI HOLDS PICNIC

The Theta Sigma Pi Sorority of the Hazleton Campus enjoyed a hayride held on Saturday, Oct. 13. Sorority members and their dates numbered about twenty. A weenie roast and music at the State Trooper's Grove in Conyngham Valley climaxed the evening.

Miss Kay Yenko, President, aided by a food and transport committee organized the outing, Mrs. Elizabeth Bodenstein, group advisor, and Mr. Samuel Ross were sponsors.

'Spectrum' Comes To Highacres

The P. S. U. engineering magazine, the Spectrum, will be available at the Hazleton Campus for the Winter Term. The subscription covers 8 issues at $1.50 student price and $1.75 faculty price. Students in Mineral Industries, Chemistry and Physics, and Engineering may contact Bill Slattery for further information.

As of this edition, our bowling team ranks first in its division with the next meet slated for November 17. The team has shown excellent form by taking 22 out of a possible 24 in the first match. The boys missed a victory in the second game by a scant seventeen points.

The team members are: George Mitchell, James Scarcella, Byron Carl, Bill Slattery, and Wayne Michael.

Intramural bowling teams have not been quite as fortunate in getting started, for only a handful have attended the Sunday night sessions. Anyone interested in joining these teams is cordially invited to come to the Bowl-Arena Sunday at 5:45 p.m.

Other centers and campuses competing with Highacres in the Pocono League include Wilkes-Barre, Allentown, and Scranton.

Basketball activities are beginning at rapid pace. On November 3 the second varsity practice session was held. The varsity All Star team will be chosen from the following: Joe Fulton, John Rosenstock, Harry Scheidy, Carmen Milora, Thomas Randis, Rich Pucher, Joe Hullick, Ty Searfoss, Wally Pilger, Jude Matteo, Frank Mondik, Thomas Pugliese, Bob Parsons, and Karl Boettiger.

The All Stars' first league game will be played with Lackawanna Gym, November 26. However, the team will have the opportunity to practice by playing a few area high school teams, such as West Hazleton High and Hazle Township High.
