

HIGHACRES' READING FESTIVAL

Belles-Lettres Society, under the guidance of Professor Andrew Kafka, played host to the eighth annual dramatic reading festival held last term in the SUB. ~~President~~ Bill Gallagher welcomed the contestants, the judges, and the audience. Master of ceremonies, Stan Terzopolas, then introduced the contestants. They were divided, according to the subject matter of their selections, into drama, prose, and poetry.

Contestants in Drama were:

Kenny Hughes
Illoyna Sotack
Eileen Astleford
Joan Agardi

In Prose:

Kaaren Trimble
Ron Carelli
Clarence Sasso
Bobbi Shappro
Jon O'Connell
Celeste McCullough

In Poetry:

Kay Detz
Bernie Cudwadie
Bella Ann Setzer
Sherry Williams
Ray Masters
Tony Greco
Bill Johnson
Ellen Kelly
Toni Nastasse
Marilyn Paris

Participants names have been listed, categorically, according to the order of appearance.

Winning Selections were:

Joan Agardi-
Saint Joan
Eileen Astleford-
Pygmalion
Kenny Hughes-
"Thousand Clowns"
Celeste McCullough-
"The Wonderful Tarbaby"

Judges for the festival were:

Miss. Helen Dassenbach
West Hazleton faculty
Mrs. Nicholas Nemesh
M.M.I. faculty
Mrs. Elta Klee
West Hazleton faculty
Prof. Thomas Price
Highacres Engl. Dept.
Prof. Michael Santulli
Highacres Humanities Dept.
Miss Gladys Schwartz
Hazleton faculty

S.G.A. SURVEY

At Spring registration students were surprised to receive questionnaires concerning the effectiveness of the Student Government Association.

The members of this organization were anxious to find out if the S.G.A. was fulfilling its purpose - to represent the entire student body of the Hazleton Campus.

The results showed that, on the whole, students felt that the S.G.A. is not as effective as it should be.

A closer relationship between the student body and representatives of S.G.A., through better publication of S.G.A. actions, was among the student's suggestions.

The students seemed to feel that if the members of the S.G.A. would let the student body know about S.G.A. plans and ~~ask~~ for student suggestions, the S.G.A. would be fulfilling its purpose in a more complete way.

These results were reported at an S.G.A. meeting and each representative agreed to do his best to follow these suggestions.