NO. 6

DR. PAULSON TO SPEAK AT CONVOCATION

Senate: Communication

Communication is the essential element for better understanding among the three main factors of a university — the students, the faculty, and the administration. On the Hazleton Campus at a faculty meeting further steps were made to improve this communication. The idea of a Hazleton Campus Senate was formulated by Dr. Harold Aurand and was adopted by the members of the faculty.

This Senate was created to formulate recommendations to the Faculty, Administration, and the Student body concerning matters that affect at least two of the representative groups and do not fall within the normal jurisdiction of the Student Affairs Committee or any other standing committee of the Hazleton Campus. Also, the Senate will serve as a forum for the exchange of ideas among the members of the campus faculty, administration, and student body.

Also at this faculty meeting it was moved and passed that for the academic year 1969-1970 that the policy of submitting mid-term grades will be suspended in the case of Sophomores and continued only for Freshmen.

The faculty of the Hazleton Campus has given the students the opportunity to contribute our part for better communication on this campus. It is now our responsibility to take advantage of this channel for better understanding.
