

CAMPUS: DATELINE

A spokesman for the PENNSYLVANIA STATE UNIVERSITY says an injunction will be served against students who attempt to obstruct persons entering or leaving a building used for military recruiting. In reply to the injunction, Students for a Democratic Society said they will continue their demonstration in front of the Hetzel Union Building leaving an aisle for persons to enter or leave the building.

*****

SOUTHERN METHODIST UNIVERSITY recently became the scene of student demonstration. The student protest is centered around student demands.

*****

Negro students, armed with guns and knives, are presently holding the administration building at the predominantly Negro VOORHEES COLLEGE in Denmark, South Carolina. College officials have been forced to close the school. The students have refused to send out a delegation to discuss their grievances with school officials.

*****

CITY COLLEGE OF NEW YORK was closed indefinitely and sit-ins continued at two other branches of the CITY UNIVERSITY.

A small group of hecklers from PENNSYLVANIA MILITARY COLLEGE burnt draft cards and disrupted a peaceful anti-war rally in the J. F. K. Plaza, central city Philadelphia.

*****

VILLANOVA UNIVERSITY students took action in a mass sit-in in protest of a hike in tuition fees. The students won the reduction of the hike from $200 to $100 for Fall term, but face a $300 increase in the Spring.

*****

Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) led protestors in the seizure of two buildings at COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY. The sit-in is in support of black students' demands for a larger role in the admissions procedure.

*****

More than 700 male and female students at Rider College in Lawrenceville, N. J., have ended the seizure of the college gymnasium. Students said they would continue their demand for the abolishment of women's curfews at the school in the form of boycott of classes until their demands were met.

*****

Dr. Rio Preisner, who has been on the faculty of the CHARLES UNIVERSITY, Prague, Czechoslovakia, will spend Spring term at THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE UNIVERSITY as a visiting fellow in the Institute for the Arts and Humanistic Studies. While at Penn State, he will continue his research in the field of German literature.

*****

White students fled from club swinging Negro and Puerto Rican students during a clash at the gates of the South Campus of CITY COLLEGE OF NEW YORK. As the result of this second incident, College President Buell G. Gallagher shut the college down for the second time in three weeks.

NEW MAJOR FOR COLLEGE

A new major, Community Development, has been approved at The Pennsylvania State University.

It will be offered by the College of Human Development in the Division of Community Development.

The major, which lists 14 new courses, is geared to prepare students for positions in programs of community organization and community social change including human resources development, research policy planning, and program development. Career settings could include the various government-sponsored community renewal and anti-poverty programs at local, state and federal levels.

The new courses will cover methods of problem solving, planning and evaluating human service programs, community organization, community conflict, identification of community power structures, and related subjects.

Students will explore community organizations and the services they provide for people. They will learn to work with communities and community agencies in providing and improving such services.

Dr. Philippatos Appointed As Head Of Finance

Dr. George C. Philippatos, acting dean of the School of Business Administration at Iona College, has been named head of the Department of Finance at The Pennsylvania State University, effective Sept. 1.

He will serve also as associate professor of finance in the College of Business Administration.

As department head, he succeeds Dr. William Beranck, who has resigned effective Aug. 31 to go to the University of Pittsburgh.

A graduate of New York University, Dr. Philippatos holds the bachelor of science, master of business administration, and doctor of philosophy degrees. He has taken post-doctoral work at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Yale.

Nursing Program Accredited

The program in nursing at The Pennsylvania State University has been accredited by the Board of Review of the National League for Nursing, Inc.

It has also won the approval of the State Board of Nurse Examiners of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as a fully approved baccalaureate degree program.

Both approvals were received following detailed examinations of the program during January and during March and April.

The Board of Review, it is explained, consists of 15 members, all deans of nursing programs throughout the country, and accreditation is granted only by unanimous board vote.
