MOVIES MUSIC THEATER

A rose by any other name still sounds sweet by Charles K. Stumpf When Bill Haley and His Comets recorded "Rock Around the Clock" back in 1953, it started a whole new trend in the sound of pop music ... ROCK 'N ROLL. It also started a vogue for performers to give themselves gimmicky names. One of the first groups with a name you would not soon forget was, "Dickey Doo and the Don'ts". Soon there were other groups called: The Platters - The Coasters - The Silhouettes -The Drifters - The Royal Teens (remember their big hit, "Short Shorts"?) - Danny and the Juniors (At the Hop) - The Diamonds (The Stroll) - The Poni Tails - The Crew Cuts (Sh-Boom) - The Supremes -The Temptations - The Shirells. - Dion and the Belmonts, and Little Anthony and the Imperials.

There were also many solo performers with unforgettable names: Fats Domino - Chubby Checker - Little Richard - The Big Bopper - Conway Twitty & Bo Diddley.

Gimmicky names were often imitated, Georgie Porgie and The Cry Babies were followed by such groups as The Teardrops and The Cryan Shames.

The subject matter was styles. The LP cover was a often as strange as the names of the recording artists. Sheb gathered round a grave. Faces Wooley sang about "The in the crowd included such Purple People Eater" while Betty Johnson told us about "The Little Blue Man". Thirteen year old Dodie Stevens sang about her boy friend who wore "Pink Shoe Laces, a Polka-Dot Vest and a Panama Hat with a Purple Hat-Band" while somebody else sang about his girl friend who wore "An Itsy-Bitsy, Teeny-Weeny, Yellow Polka-Dot Bikini", and so it Jerry Lee Lewis was one of the first to use the gimmick of long hair (blonde). Recordings of his hits, like "A Whole Lot of Shakin' Goin' On" had his fans in a frenzy. In May 1958 he married his 13 year old cousin from Tennessee and his popularity took a nose dive. Today he is back on the music scene, featuring mostly country/western tunes.

The British Beatles appeared on the music scene in the early '60s. Their early hit "I Want to Hold Your Hand" sold well over 5,000,000 copies. In 1967 they turned out an album called, "Sgt. Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band", which set a new trend in music

The Beatles were hadled as "messengers from beyond Rock 'n Roll, creating the most original, expressive and musically interesting sounds being heard in pop music". Other top pop British groups have been The Animals, The Rolling Stones,

The Kinks, Dave Clark Five, Herman's Hermits, The Searchers and The Bee Gees. By the late '60s the

"psychedelic sound" entered the scene. Psychedelic music combined rock 'n roll and the highly controversial hallucinatory drug, LSD with "music to blow your mind". It also ushered in a whole new trend in strange sounding names and sounds. San Francisco gave us: The Grateful Dead - Quicksilver Messenger Service - Big Brother & the Holding Company - 13th Floor Elevator, and The Loading Zone. Los Angeles produced The Knack - The New Generation - Gentle Soul -New Society - Ever Present

One of the first groups to make use of psychedelic lights was a quartet billed as "Dr. West's Medicine Show and Junk Band". Their first single recording was titled, "The Eggplant That Ate Chicago". They were followed by The Rick Jackman concert "a true experience"

by Anne McKinstry

On Thursday, Feb. 24, at 8:00 p.m. in the Classroom Building Auditorium, Rick Jackman, a classical guitarist, from Main Campus, performed. He opened his program with Burgalesc, by Spaniard Moreno-Torroba, followed by Villa-Lobos' Prelude and Etudes. The three pieces were done with a flowing and deftness resulting in our immediate awareness that we were being treated to a true experience.

The first portion of the program also included piec3s by the following composers: DeFalla, Crespo, Ravel, and Turina. These compositions held the audience's rapt attention - either following the dextrous movements of Mr. Jackman's fingers, which were fascinating to watch, or simply engrossed in the nice sound of his music.

After a short intermission, Rick Jackman returned with six pieces, self-composed. His next selection was Leyenda by Albeniz, and he closed the program with the lovely Bouree by Bach.

Jackman, as those who attended the performance may have guessed, is Australian-born. He has spent

This experience calls for many more like it in the future.

"If everybody minded their own business, the world would go round a good deal faster than it does." Lewis Carroll 'Alice's Adventures in Wonderland"

True, we spend a lot of time minding other people's business when we all would be better off paying attention to our own. Sometimes, though, it is a good idea to check just once in a while to see what other people are doing. They may be gaining on you. For example, take a good close look at the clothes other men are wearing. You may find that you are a little bit behind the times in the way you dress. Your clothes are detracting from your otherwise good impression.

Fear not! Frumkin Bros. to the rescue. It won't take us long to change your image. We have an enormous, up-to-date selection of reasonably priced men's clothes.
