

The Highacres Collegian

PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF THE HAZLETON CAMPUS OF THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE UNIVERSITY

VOLUME 8, NUMBER 1

HAZLETON, PA. 18201

October 30, 1972

Library soon to be completed

The new library is nearing completion. The main door has been designated as the only permissible area to smoke in the building. Other lounges have been placed strategically around both floors. A private library materials is now available.

The books number over 23,000 with faculty lounge will be downstairs. A 100 new books arriving every week. They are seated seminar room is also on the basement cataloged under the Library of Congress floor. It can be converted into 3 smaller rooms by the use of folding wall panels.

O-Z in the basement. For the student who still thinks in terms of Dewey Decimal Mrs. Mary Ferry, head librarian, has kindly added a green F to the literary number of the fiction books to avoid confusion.

The library contains research materials will be used as private faculty studies for other than books. On microfilm is the complete NEW YORK TIMES and several other newspapers and magazines. To view them you may use one of the four microfilm machines or take home the portable for overnight use. Separate sections have been set aside for magazines, paperbacks and the vertical file. The cassette players and tapes cover a large field from History to Music and from Literature to Spanish.

The comfort of the students and faculty has been considered. A lounge near the use of the library is limited to the materials on the main floor until a handrail is installed for the steps. The main floor can supply the microfilm and cassette equipment, magazines, paperbacks and all books A-N. The basement books O-Z can be used by asking the librarian for help in locating them. The librarians will provide you with as much assistance as you require.

SGA sponsor dance concert

The Hazleton Campus of Penn State will sponsor a dance concert November 1 at the "Circus" on Broad Street in Hazleton.

"GRAVEL", the featured band, has toured with such notable groups as "Yes", "Emerson, Lake and Palmer", and "The Steve Miller Band". The group is originally from Pittsburgh and is in the process of cutting its first album on Columbia records. Edison Flyback will also be featured.

Tickets will be sold for $2 each at Greco's, The Brown Bag in Hazleton, and in the S.U.B. Tickets will also be sold at the door for $2.25.

The concert will begin at 8 p.m.

drama club news

This year's Drama Club will present various one-act plays throughout the school year. The first is scheduled for the 2nd week of the winter term. The club, under the direction of Mrs. Susan Miller, is still open for membership. Anyone interested can contact Kim Myers or Gloria Holoneck, club chairmen.

S.G.A. Formulates Future Plans

The Student Government Association held a meeting October 17, at 12:30 in the SGA office. A number of important issues were discussed.

The SGA voted not to join the National Student Lobby—a legislative body set up to promote and direct educational bills through Congress.

Also discussed were the plans made for the dance concert featuring "Gravel" that is to be held November 11 at the Circus in Hazleton. There was an expressed concern over the small number of tickets being sold.

The SGA also voted to give the Chorus money to purchase needed music. Also discussed was the possibility of installing more pinball machines downstairs in the Game Room. President Bob Henry reports that this matter is being checked into by the Recreation Board.

SGA also gave its final okay to plans for All-U Day and finalized plans for ticket sales. The date for All-U Day is November 11, and the final date for ticket purchases is October 30.

President Bob Henry told the Collegian staff member that he is looking forward to increased support from the students this year and invites all interested students to contact him or any SGA representative.

Macbeth at Highacres

The Penn State Arts Company from University Park gave a live performance for the Arts I class on October 10. The Company consists of 13 graduate students who are working for a M. A. in Fine Arts. The 11 actors, 3 technicians and stage hand, tour 8 campuses a term and have a repertoire of 15 pieces ranging in time from one minute to an hour. Their main piece is the "Glass Managerie" by Tennessee Williams.

Using the student lounge for a stage, the Company presented three short pieces. "Wandering" from COLLISION COURSE was written by the young playwright, Land Wilson. It needed no props or costumes. It moved at a fast pace—the entire life of one man was portrayed in only three minutes. A segment from Clifford Odets' SID & FLORENCE titled "Waiting for Lefty" was the second selection. A few props and costumes were used to take the audience back to the Depression. "Camera Obscura" by Robert Patrick was a quick look into the future, using time as a confusing and uncontrollable concept.

The setting then moved to the garden outside the Main Building where scenes from "Macbeth" were performed on the fire escape. Their arrival was greatly appreciated by the Arts I class and by the few curious students who just happened to drop in. Anyone who missed this fine Company by passed the chance to see some great professional actors doing their best.

Fonda speaks out at U park

UNIVERSITY PARK (APS) — Calling for an immediate end to U.S. involvement in Indochina, anti-war activist Jane Fonda, speaking to an estimated crowd of 5,000 here on Friday, said the United States, "is waging a cultural and ecological genocide on the people of Vietnam."

The noted actress, speaking in behalf of the Indochina Peace Campaign, stated that the U.S. policy of saturation bombing and the use of various methods of defoliation has, "raped the land of its life sustaining elements and has driven the people from their ancient ancestral homes... B-52's flying at 30,000 feet drop 90 tons of bombs on an area one-half mile wide by one and one-quarter miles long, wiping everything in that area off the face of the earth."

She stressed the fact that the Pentagon Papers clearly indicate the United States is responsible for the military aggression in Vietnam, "although the struggle for independence in Vietnam is centuries old...we know from the Pentagon Papers that the United States invaded Vietnam in 1965. It is clear that the United States is the aggressor in Indochina," she said.

Condemning the Saigon Government for its corruption, she stated that the South Vietnamese people have grown intolerant of the abusive Thieu regime, "Thieu is recognized around the world as a dictator. It is important to remember that the war is a war of the people against Thieu."

She also cited the fact that Thieu's sister, Madame Nuyegn Bien, has been discovered trafficking in heroin and that her connection is a high ranking official of the Pepsi Cola Bottling Company in Vientiane, Laos, a corporation for which President Nixon worked as a lawyer from 1962 to 1965.

Miss Fonda charged the Nixon Administration with failing to bring an end to U.S. involvement in Vietnam. She stated that two years ago Nixon was informed that the pacification program was a failure but that, "Nixon needed to buy time through pacification." She condemned the Administration for its indiscriminate bombing tactics, charging that these tactics have, "forced the people from their homes in the countryside into the city where they live in filth." She condemned the Administration for using the "starvation policy" in the bombing of North Vietnamese dikes, which she claims rupture and flood fertile lowland rice producing areas, "Nixon is trying to bring the North to its knees...he's trying to buy peace through the sale of food to a nation he himself is starving to death."

She said the Administration has dulled the minds of the American people through its propaganda facades, "I cry for us (the U.S. people) for not being able to understand what's going on in Vietnam...for a long time I didn't realize what was happening in Indochina, I am no longer a dead leaf on a branch...We have a chance to end the war in Vietnam, at least we can put a spine back into the anti-war effort. We must educate ourselves about Vietnam and then vote to end this war."

Accompanying Miss Fonda on her tour were, former P.O.W. George Smith, singers Holly Near and David Martin, and Tom Hayden, former SDS leader. The group planned to make Maryland the next stop on their seven state speaking tour.

all-u day slated for nov 11

ALL-U DAY, the event that Commonwealth Campus students await all year, is scheduled for November 11. The event is being sponsored by the Keystone Society in cooperation with the Student Government Association on campus. Mark Denke, President of the local chapter of the Keystone Society, and Bob Henry, SGA president, announce that tickets will be sold in the Student Union Building.

The activities for All-U-Day include a football game, a buffet dinner, a jammy and a concert. Dinner tickets will be available until October 30, and will cost $2.10. A single jammy ticket may be purchased at $.50 per person. If you plan to attend both activities, there is a combination ticket available at a reduced rate of $2.50. Tickets for the rock concert will also be available in the SUB until October 30, and will cost only $3.50.

IN order to determine the possibility of hiring a bus, a tentative list will be set up at the ticket booth. If you are interested in a bus, ask the person at the ticket booth about the list.

INSIDE THE COLLEGIAN

editorial comments	.....	page two
entertainment	.....	page four
sports	.....	page eight
letters	.....	page three
feature	.....	page two