

HALLOWEEN PARTY

On Wednesday, October 31, everyone from Playboy bunnies to Mick Jagger, from Apollos in togas to wild-eyed gypsies was unleashed in the dorm rec room for a Halloween party. Games were played and munchies were eaten. Prizes were awarded to Gary Gray, Bill Steele, Ib Larsen, Butch Mazurek, Mike Lutz, Dale Genter, Joe Zuba, Milton Trumbauer, and Bill Hawkins for the most original costume--the Ku Klux Klan. Time Nichols, disguised as a cheerleader, was awarded a prize for the cutest costume. Disguised as Dracula, Al Horne took the prize for the scariest costume. Last, but not least, were Dennis Catino and Bob Wexler, dressed as an organ-grinder and his monkey, thus taking the award for the funniest costume. After the presentation of prizes, one of the gorriest pictures ever released was shown in the dorm lobby. The party was given by the Social Committee of RHC.

PREVENTION

by Maria J. Rovito day.

There comes a time in everyone's life when he feels uptight. But now-a-days, with "end of term panic" reaching epidemic proportions, more and more people are becoming uptight. What is this strange disease, and how can one avoid it? Unfortunately, there is no prevention for contracting this disease, but with a little help from my friends, I'm going to try to explain it to you.

UPTIGHT IS:

Missing your first physics class of the term, on the only day that the prof has ever decided to give a quiz.

Finding that the IFS paper that was due next Tuesday was due this past Tues-

Walking into your one "easy" course, and taking a surprise quiz on material you haven't read yet.

Running the wrong way in aerobics class.

Spilling pathogenic organisms all over you and your lab partner.

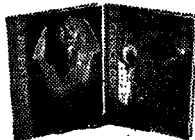

Going to the front of the class to give a speech and having your mind register a blank.

Looking at the course timetable for next term.

Trying to find your advisor.

Reading an article like this and finding it sounds like you.
