

Highlights

by BILL MICHAEL

The clock was running out and the spectators were beginning to shuffle in their bleacher seats. Jeff Devers' high hook-shot from 3/4-court was followed with doubtful indifference. But when the ball snapped through the net at the sound of the final buzzer, the crowd roared its amazement and the shooter became an instant hero.

The Student-Faculty basketball game had ended. Held on Wednesday, March 20, it was a typically Highacrian event, complete with excited participants, "enthusiastic" cheerleaders (both male and female), and an appreciative audience. Although no gymnasium presently exists on campus, the event was well organized--and well attended at the Most Precious Blood gym in Hazleton.

The game got underway at 7:30 with a lot of action, a precedent that was followed throughout the evening. The scoring among the students was fairly impressive, with Ken Heydt (7 at the half, 9 at final) the high shooter.

The Hazleton Campus faculty played a solid offensive passing game, though they lacked in shooting. Their genuine enthusiasm was evident throughout the game. Ron Biggers led in scoring with 2 points at the half and 10 points final. George Bobby and Dean Joseph McCallus did a superb job as referees.

The value of mere victory seemed disregarded in

SINK'EM SWEETIE

by Maria J. Rovito

Between the boy (?) cheerleaders kissing the faculty and Mr. Bigger's contact lens coming out, it is easy to say that the Student-Faculty basketball game was truly a comedy of errors.

The Dean and Mr. Bobby as referees did a topnotch job. However, the problems were that Mr. Bobby kept confusing the job of referee with that of player, and the Dean couldn't decide whether he wanted to be a referee or a cheerleader. Mr. Bobby scored 4 points, and the Dean just scored.

Bob Fallon, Rolly Loomis, Rainer Freyer, Butch Mazurek, Bill Steele, Joe Zuba, Al Rozo, Barry Jais, and Joe Lendvay did a fantastic job as cheerleaders. They gave the faculty support in a variety of ways. They held the student basket for the faculty, did several cheers, (Lord only knows WHAT cheers) and took the walk out of the Walkathon Chairman and the spin out of a Sperm. When the ball would roll near the boy (?) cheerleaders' bench, and the referee would call it for the students, the cheerleaders would take it and then act innocent of such treachery. Temporary insanity must have struck the squad when they rushed out and mugged Ducky Binns, who just quacked in favor of hard play, pure excitement, and the unchecked antics of cheerleaders and players alike.

The final score was Students 52, and Faculty 38.

reply.

Pandemonium also broke loose when Killer Krone accidentally (?) elbowed student Bill Finerfrock. Killer became the killee as the student team rushed to Bill's defense.

As always the girl cheerleaders did a fine job.

The Comedy of Errors was comically presented by faculty and students in conjunction with SUB.

Other highlights were:

- ... "Secret Weapon" superstar Ray Bast who did a fine playing job.
- ... Jeff (Sperm) Devers' unbelievable 3/4 court hook shot.
- ... Mr. Bobby's job as a player.
- ... John Busher's running ability.
- ... the faculty team in the old girls' basketball team uniforms.
- ... Mr. Bigger's contact lens.
- ... the high flying cheerleaders.
- ... the student team in the assorted basketball team uniforms.
- ... Ken Heydt's 16 points.
- ... the luscious boy (?) cheerleaders.
- ... the faculty team consisting of "Stick" Price, "Chiming" Bell, "Blue Jay" Breckenridge, "Killer" Krone, Ronald "MacDonald" Biggers, "Fingers" Klomp, "Duck" Binns, "Secret Weapon" Bast, and "Great National Player" (GNP) Biacchi.
- ... SGA players featuring Mark Denke, Mike Petresky, John Busher, Milton Trumbauer, Ken Heydt, Joe "Merc" Morris, and RH players, Mitch Kinstler, Bill Finerfrock, and Jeff Devers.

R. WRUBEY EMERGENCY EQUIPMENT

SALES & SERVICE

NATIONAL

SERVING THE CUSTOMERS NEEDS
NATIONWIDE!

105 SUSQUEHANNA BLVD. WEST HAZLETON, PENNA. 18201

GEBHARDT'S

BILLIARD & BOWLING SUPPLY

- Trophies
- Exercise Equipment
- Two-Piece Cues
- Golf Equipment
- PUMA Shoes
- Butterfly and Harvard Table-Tennis Paddles

OPEN DAILY
TILL 5 WED. & FRI. TILL 9

Phone - 455-5872

124 North Wyoming Street Hazleton