all the clubs and organizations and began preparing its own budget. Nothing earthshattering, but it did take our time and efforts to do it. We decided at this time to post our minutes and agenda on all bulletin boards so students would be aware of what we were doing. Obviously, it didn't work. You see, when I ran for SGA president last spring, I promised to keep students informed of SGA's activities, and I'm determined to keep that promise. When, it was becoming obvious to me that the posting of minutes was not enough, I decided to go before the student body so that I could tell everyone about some of the things we've been doing and get some suggestions about what you want done. The result - nobody shows up. So now, as a last resort, this letter. I dread doing this, because I really don't think it's such a good idea to just list our accomplishments and pat ourselves on the back, but, as I said, it's a last resort.

Well, sorry for getting side-tracked there. I'll probably be doing that often in this letter 'cause I'm just writing things as they pop into my head. Back to Fall Term, and some other things we did. I guess the biggest thing we did Fall Term was run the Bike-a-thon for the American Cancer Society. A lot of SGA members helped on the day of the ride at registration and checkpoints and Donna Postupack, Francie Grencavich, Christie Tito, and myself put a lot of time into planning it. The result - we raised over $1400 dollars, which wasn't bad, but less than five students from Penn State rode in the Bike-a-thon. The rest were all from Hazleton Area high schools and junior high schools. Also in Fall Term, Kim DePue and Debbie Burgess worked with Mr. Price on a student survey for a project he was doing. We also went to University Park and succeeded in being promised that tickets for concerts would be set aside
