

continued from page 3

presented a series of skits à la Monty Python and the Firesign Theatre. There were some good lines and...some bad lines in these predominately ad-libbed skits.

Tim Cline gets the second best award for his "This is Your Life, Mystery Person," perhaps the best-prepared act of the evening. Jim Staudenmeier turned in a credible off-the-cuff performance as the Mystery Guest, since it came as a surprise to him as well as the audience.

"Hubert the Mute and His Performing Aunt" started out well, but didn't quite make it. The actors were called out of the audience, a beautiful bit of last-second improvisation by director Brad McNab, but from there it was a long way downhill. Perhaps this skit more than most of the others suffered from lack of time in which to prepare.

Harold Aurand made his annual appearance on stage with Mike Santulli and the supposed contents of an old mailbag found in the Main Building. Some mailbag--only Aurand and Santulli can write jokes like that. The pair was up to their usual high standards and presented what had to be the best single series of jokes for the night.

The be-robed faculty chorus which ended the show had their problems, mostly Sue Dahlin's whipped cream pies. Unfortunately, the black choral robes weren't theirs. Oh, well, maybe 1977 will be a better year.

Blood drive success

A drive to obtain blood donors at Hazleton Campus was a success, according to Mrs. Margaret L. Tamea, campus nurse. Eighty-three pints of blood were donated.

Mrs. Tamea would like to express her appreciation to all those who helped in the drive. This included the donors, the fraternity for sponsoring the drive, and the volunteers and recruiters who worked for this success. Donors cards will be in the mail soon.

GUIDE TO MONEY FOR HIGHER EDUCATION

Guide to more than 250,000 Scholarships and Financial Aid Source — items valued at over $500 million dollars.

Contains the most up-to-date information on:

Scholarships, grants, aids, fellowships, loans, work-study programs, cooperative education programs, and summer job opportunities; for study at colleges, vocational and technical schools, paraprofessional training, community or two-year colleges, graduate schools, and post-graduate study or research; funded on national, regional, and local levels by the federal government, states, cities, foundations, corporations, trade unions, professional associations, fraternal organizations, and minority organizations. Money is available for both average as well as excellent students, both with and without need.

BENNETT PUBLISHING CO.

Dept. 214, 102 Charles Street, Boston, Mass. 02114.

Please rush me _____ copies of GUIDE TO MONEY FOR HIGHER EDUCATION at $5.95 plus 50c for postage and handling for each copy.

I am enclosing $_____ (check or money order).

Name _____

Address _____

City _____ State _____ Zip _____

© Copyright 1976 Bennett Publishing Co.

RHC

New Resident Assistants were selected earlier this week. They are: Jim Kramer, Ruth Marion, Tricia McGee, Ann Rosemergey, Marty Yany, and Ed Zablocki.

Winners of the pinnacle tournament are: first prize - Doug Brown and Gene Heyler, second prize - John P. Wolfe and Barry Faust, third prize - Sharon Rupert and Juanita Pinkney.

The Arts and Culture committee of RHC sponsored an arts and crafts show in the dining hall on Tuesday, February 17. Meal ticket holders displayed paintings, needlepoint, macrame, ink sketches, and other various projects of their own creation.

RHC is urging dorm students to take any complaints, problems, or suggestions to their floor governors. RHC can and will find solutions, but only if they are aware of the problems.

SGA

Rose Ann Davidick and Matt Werner were elected Student Government Representatives during the SGA elections of February 9. They will replace past representatives Sue Kinard and Lu Anne Surak.

SGA's constitution, an issue on the ballot, was ratified by the majority of the voters. Approximately 200 members of the student body voted in the elections.

SUB

The Student Union Board will sponsor a dance on March 7 at 8:00 p.m. in the Commons. Admission is $1, 50¢ for those with library buttons.

Topaz will be the performing group for the evening.

SCHOOL SPIRIT

Two U. of Oklahoma students were expelled earlier this school year for allegedly using fake computer cards to obtain season football tickets.