

More Than a Hobby

Continued from page 13
also collects beer bottles and ads. He said that he plans to join the National Beer Can Collectors Association but, "every time I get the $15 I spend it on beer."

McNab used to collect stamps as a hobby, however, he said, "It's alot more fun collecting beer cans than taking stamps off envelopes."

"I'm just as interested in what is in the cans as the cans themselves," McNab said.

Page also collects cases of cans so that he has cans to trade with. When McNab, an acquaintance of Page, heard this he felt obliged to challenge Page. He said he would begin collecting kegs. Page retorted by saying he would collect beer trucks. Down the line they continued with distributors to breweries.

Page states this thought about non-beer can collectors; "people think you're crazy because you look along the roads, in garbage cans, and in lumps for cans."

Gym Dedication

continued from page 7

Following the ceremony, a gymnastics exhibition will be performed. Throughout the remainder of the afternoon, the public will be able to tour the Physical Education Building and the Library and Class Room Building. Refreshments will be available on the campus also.

Penn State personnel serving as members of the Dedication Committee include: Dr. William J. David, Mr. Paul Cerula, Mr. George Bobby, Mr. Thomas Caccese, Mrs. Jago, and Patrick Wilson.

Mistaken Information

In the April 29, 1977 HIGHACRES COLLEGIAN erroneous information was published in the article "New Procedures Set Forth By Standards Board."

Student Standards Board members were chosen during the 1975-76 academic year in a campus-wide student election run by the Student Government Association. Furthermore, according to University policy the only cases that the Board was supposed to hear last year were cases dealing with violations of student rules and regulations and only if the student pleaded "not guilty." University policy in these regards has since been reversed for the 1976-77 year. The Board never met last year.

The Residence Hall Coordinator's only task during the 1975-76 year in regards to the student disciplinary system was to charge students with violations of the disciplinary code of conduct when warranted.

* * *

Anyone interested in participating in the Undergraduate Student Government as a student staff member of the executive branch of the U.S.G. at University Park should see Ron Drum for information

* * *

EAT IN Pizza Hut
CARRY OUT

Route 93 Susquehanna Blvd.
West Hazleton, Pa.
PHONE 454-2421

CARRY OUT
EAT IN