ject. Horwith said that a combination of good communications and a solid organizational system will result in "excellent activities" for the students of Highacres.

Horwith cited a number of goals for next year, but emphasized that goals revolve around a central theme, "...to create a continually productive social atmosphere with activities that people enjoy."

To fulfill this goal, Horwith spoke of the possibility of having concerts during the coming year. He also spoke of the current project involving improvements in the Commons area; a project that Horwith felt could be a joint campus activity.

Horwith summarized his duties as president of the 1977-78 Student Union Board as, "to coordinate and organize the efforts and ideas of the entire S.U.B. and to have these ideas and efforts channeled into a certain activity."

Clubs Unite to Make Spring Week A Success

By DAVID KRAFT
Collegian Editor-in-Chief

Student Government, Highacres Club Advisory Council, and the Speleology Club combined efforts to sponsor a series of events during the week of April 16, called "Spring Week."

The week began with the first annual Road Rally, followed by a dance in back of the Residence Hall.

A Walk-a-Thon was held on April 17, beginning at the Harmon Geist Stadium. The proceeds of the walk were for the benefit of the March of Dimes.

The second annual Apathy Day was April 20. During the day, various activities took place. An ice cream eating contest was held in the Commons with fifty percent of all proceeds to be contributed to the American Heart Association.

Other events included a Pinochle Contest and a "car smasher." Students were given the opportunity to release hostilities by smashing a car with a large mallet. A dance to the sound of "Kicks" was held in the Commons at 8 P.M. with poor attendance by students.

The week concluded with a Coffee House in the Residence Hall featuring Stan Shepard, a Jamaican Folk Singer.

A Club Carnival was to take place on April 18-19. The Carnival was postponed and finally cancelled due to poor weather conditions.
