Annual
Damascene™
 Christmas Pendant

Reed & Barton Silversmiths introduce the second annual Christmas pendant, in their stunning Damascene process. The 1978 pendant, entitled "Snow Fawn," features a tiny deer... inspired by a famous bronze sculpture from the Ming Dynasty, and re-created here in a delicately embossed collage of pure silver, burnished copper, bronze and 24kt gold electroplate. This handsome repoussé design is elegantly gift-boxed at $18.50 including chain.

as we reached Harrisburg I would be allowed to open the "envelope" and our weekend mission would begin.

If you're not sure what "ACU-I Region 4" is, I better stop for a moment and let you know or this article will be totally worthless. ACU-I is the Association of College Union Boards - International. It is divided into area regions (Hazleton is part of Region 4) which in turn are divided into subregions. The organization has been developed so the many Union Boards can get together, exchange new and old ideas, help growing Union Boards, and keep the idea of student-run activities a growing concern.

Back to our trip. When we finally reached Morgantown, (have you ever spent six hours in a car with Ev Binns?) we found ourselves to be part of a crowd of over 450 delegates from 56 (or so) colleges and universities. We were all representing our own campuses and were there to, hopefully, bring home a variety of ideas, etc. to SUB members.

It would be hard for me to tell you what Ev, Rob, and Robin found, but I can tell you my own story.

The only way to describe the weekend is "super." I met so many people, students and administration members, who hold a genuine concern for the way their campuses are run. By attending workshops, enjoying the eleven showcases presented to introduce a variety of entertainment, and talking over meals, I surprisingly found we all had many of the same successes and troubles.

The 46 workshops were the main events of the weekend, ranging from topics on leadership and programming to management. A few of my choices were "Leadership Among Groups" and "A Leadership Training Package."

Faye Papalardo of the Community College of Baltimore gave a fantastic talk on what leadership really is and how leaders must learn to react to their members. The focal point in her talk was that a leader must not only effectively set goals and reach them, he or she must also plan, control and organize every phase of an activity. This would be the goal of a Union Board. The also stressed how important it is to work together with other members of your group on any project. Some people need more encouragement, so, be patient but stay on top of things. (Thanks Faye, I really enjoyed that session).

Well, the weekend was a lot of fun and a super learning experience. Ev, Rob, and Robin, thanks for making the weekend what it was. I loved it.

Have a great day, all! Joanne. (I'm part of S.U.B., the activities people).
