Highacres soccer team kicks off new season

"Pleased" was the word that Soccer Coach Mr. Bill Lockwood used to describe his team's early season success so far. Due to the unfamiliarity of the team and lack of group practice, no team captains have been chosen yet. Coach Lockwood commented though, that a pair of sophomores will probably get the nod as the season progresses.

The squads' six returning lettermen this year are sophomores

Penn State hosts top U.S. teams

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa.—Beaver Stadium will be a showcase for the top teams in college football in the 1980s.

In the next four seasons, Penn State fans will be treated to some of the top intersectional matchups of those years. Alabama, Miami (Fla.), Nebraska and Notre Dame are several of the top teams that will play in Beaver Stadium.

Penn State also will continue to play traditional rivals Boston College, Maryland, North Carolina State, Pittsburgh, Syracuse and West Virginia at home.

Alabama will visit Beaver Stadium in 1981 and 1983, Nebraska will play here again in 1982 and Notre Dame travels to Penn State in the 1981 and 1983 seasons. Boston College, Colgate, Iowa and Villanova will be returning to Penn State in the next four years.

Syracuse (Oct. 18) will be Penn State's Homecoming opponent this fall. Other future Homecoming dates are Oct. 10, 1981, Boston College; Oct. 16, 1982, Syracuse, and Oct. 22, 1983, West Virginia.

Beaver Stadium has had its sixth major renovation in 20 years. The stadium, originally built in 1960 with 46,824 seats, will hold 83,017 persons for Penn State's six-game home schedule this year. Last year's stadium capacity was 76,639.

Intramural program slated

In hope of getting some much needed relaxation and enjoyable exercise, approximately one hundred students and faculty members will visit the Physical Education Building weeknights throughout the Fall Term. Mr. Bruce Young, the man in charge of the program, said, "Basketball will be played Tuesday and Thursday nights, volleyball is scheduled for Monday and Wednesday nights, while bowling is slated for Tuesday nights."

The basketball program includes such formidable teams as the War Pigs, the Bong Squad, the Gold Squad, Matarese, the Sixty-niners, Roma Gators, and the Umbriacas. The volleyball teams include the following: Spocky Spikers, T&A, Gashouse Gorillas, Yukon Kids, and the Geritol Gang. Six three man bowling teams will also be in competition.

The Winter Term Intramural program will include: volleyball, basketball, bowling, wiffleball (in the gym), racquetball, and a Superstars competition. The entry fee of seventy-five cents covers the expense of awards. Also, a three dollar per term per person bowling fee exists.

Mr. Young strongly urges anyone who has any ideas concerning other sports or the program as it now stands to contact him.

Gym hours

The schedule for open gym hours is as follows:

GYMNASIUM:	Monday thru Thursday	12:00-9:00
	Friday	12:00-5:00
SWIMMING POOL:	Monday thru Friday	12:00-1:00
