Chorus

This year, the Highacres' choir performed a Christmas concert at the Laurel Mall and sang Christmas carols at a local nursing home. The year culminated with a presentation of Gilbert and Sullivan's H.M.S. Pinafore. The 25-member choir practices twice a week, once as a large group, and the other as individual groups. Dr. Jumpeter, the advisor, tries to give the students a broad range of choral music to perform, the group singing everything from pre-Baroque music to the popular musical numbers of modern times. Smanda Smsell serves as President of the club, followed by Debby Cassano, Vice-President; and Missy Miller, Secretary and Treasurer.

SGA

The Student Government Association (SGA) with its 22 active participants is led by Alita Rovito, President; Chris McNab, Vice-President; Dee Hartman, Secretary; Rosemarie Cistone, Assistant Secretary; Lori Folk, Treasurer; and Gwenn Toevs, Assistant Treasurer. Two of the club's sophomores, Judd Buskirk and Jim Bagley, proved to be a hard working team which deserves recognition. Mike Moyer and Tom Swarr, both freshmen, have also done an exceptional job as dedicated workers. Other members include Debby Gorman, Jennifer Finelli, Gary Strausser, Nadia Puhak, Eric Riedinger, Gregg Davis, Missy Miller, Pat Kramer, Mark Deebel,

Terri Eroh, Otis Gallagher and Denise Polivka. SGA was responsible for the success of the 12th annual Awards Banquet held at Gus Genetti's Best Western Motor Lodge on April 30th, as well as the semi-formal held earlier in the year. SGA also sponsored a leadership conference which provided Hazleton freshmen with the understanding of how to take on roles in campus organizations. HCAC, working in conjunction with the March of Dimes' WalkAmerica, helped to raise money in the fight against birth defects on April 25th. Student Government is also in charge of running all student elections on campus.

The Student Union Board (SUB) was very active this year. With Lisa Vendura as president during fall and winter, and Pat Kramer during spring, the organization accomplished a lengthy assortment of things. They organized a Needy Children's Christmas Party, and sponsored James Mapes, the hypnotist who appeared in the Commons. Also in the Commons was the very popular Rocky Horror Picture Show. SUB also sponsored the Carnation Sale for Valentine's Day. Along a more cultural vein, SUB was behind the appearances of Ray Owens and Alan Krantz, two guitarists with very different styles. SUB sponsored the Elephant Man and Spring Week.

Outstanding members include Alan Smith, for his hard work, dedication and availability; Otis Gallagher and Tom Swarr for their willingness to work; Pat Kramer, who stepped in and took over during SUB's busiest season and did a terrific job; and the club's advisor, Joe Marchetti, for all his suggestions and guidance. Other members include Renee Kovach, Pat Loverde, Michelle Shiber, Tracey Coll, Cathy Szido, Tim Swarr, Pam Eppinger, Alita Rovito, Andy Villaruz, Eric Selber, Steven Zarick, Lisa Vendura, and George Puhak.

New Horizons

Students for a Creative Society is most known through its literary magazine, New Horizons. This past year, the organization put forth two issues of the magazine, held a paper airplane contest, and created a New Horizons' Calendar.

The paper airplane contest, held during winter term, was a fundraiser for the organization. Regulation paper was required and was sold to the entrants. It was held in the Physical Education Building on the racquetball courts.

The New Horizons' Calendar was a big success. The elaborate calendars with pictures and poems by club members were sold for three dollars each.

Jerry Trently, John Lewis, Michael Brouse and John Good deserve special recognition for two years of service to the magazine, and Debbie Scott was named the outstanding freshman. Anne Cormier, president, and Dr. Joseph Marchesani, advisor, merit attention for the enormous amount of time and devotion they have given to the activity.

Other members include: Lori Harlan, Pam Eppinger, and Cheryl Hancharick.

Outings club

Although the Outings Club has a small membership, its participants are active, and enjoy what their club has to offer. The group has had nice turnouts for their camping and hiking excursions, their C.P.R. classes, as well as their recent raft relay.

The group consists of Robin Bergstresser, President; Cathy Ferry, Secretary; Dave Picarrel, Treasurer; Margaret Haraschak, Jill Balliet, and Kathy Moody.
