Highacres is involved in a partnership with the community of Hazleton and by constructing this all-purpose building, it will benefit not only the students but the community as well.

We can also look forward to the addition of a new bookstore by next fall. The current bookstore will be renovated to accommodate a new Music center, which will contain an office, a practice room, and a classroom. After working up a plan and a budget, it will be presented to the University Building Committee within the next 12 to 18 months. This project also depends on the availability of funds. It is a goal the faculty and the students can work toward together.
