

Hundreds pack Commons for BACCHUS/SUB Casino Nite

by Bob Mey

On Thursday, October 18, SUB and Bacchus transformed the Commons Building into a dance/gambling hall of Trump-like proportions as they held Casino Nite.

Casino Nite was actually two events in one, each held in a different level of the Commons. Students were allowed to participate in both events after paying an admission fee of $2.00.

Dr. Carl Frankel deals a hand to several students hoping to hit it big.

Seth Kestenbaum, as Safari Sam, kept everybody dancing by playing a variety of hits.
