

Extracurricular Activities

We have often heard it said at one time or another that college life is as important a part of one's education as the actual studying; that the contacts one makes and the atmosphere one lives in while in college are as desirable as the scholastic goal one is striving for. This does not mean, of course, that it is just as well if one took a few "snap" courses and took on the mannerisms and idiosyncracies of students as a means of completing a successful college career. Rather it signifies that the student who keeps his grades on the upper side of "zips" and better, will increase the value of his education, even to a material extent, if he will enter into an extracurricular activity or two.

The age-old argument of not having time is acceptable, if correct; but there are very few students who cannot give up the few hours a week required by the activity. The resulting satisfaction of having pleasure, and possibly learning something useful while associating with one's classmates far outweigh the "no-time" argument of those whom we often see loafing in the game-room.

Our Center has always had a reputation for popular extracurricular organizations and clubs. Thus far this year, we have organized the Photography Club, the Sketch Club, the Music Club, the International Relations Club, the Science Club, and the Dramatics Club. Every alert student should be able to find something of interest and value in at least one of these organizations.

G.S.

Last Friday the Women's Organization gave a tea for the students of the Hazleton Undergraduate Center. Chairman of the committees for the tea were Naomi Bastuscheck, Betty Corazza, and Eleanore DeGatis. About seventy students and ten faculty members were present.

Did You Know-----

Lois Long(ss) for a certain freshman. Who are we to "Harris" her affections?

Eleanore goes for a "berg" named "Koenig." Quote "He's a riot!" Unquote.

Melvin thinks Harriet is looking fine, but what about the other four girls in New York?

Ario insists on 9:30 dates! Why?

Why do some of the boys wear such brilliant colors and such horrible patterns? Maybe a "Bruch" will murmur the answers.

Earl is already worried about a suitable Christmas gift for a certain lassie in New York.

Alvan Bruch's theme song is "(H)ester the Hostess"--a very popular song at all g(B)rills.

Have you noticed that Washing(ton) day look about Elivra? Why not "Sell" your car and buy an airplane dearie? It's cheaper.

Is Winnett any relation to the spinet? Or did he get all Keyed up about a merry-go-round?

The letter "O" figures prominently in Vitabile's life. Just ask him!

Jean DeMarco seems to be "Wade-ing" through difficulties at the Center.

Have you noticed those sly . . . glances that have been passing between Al. Bishop and Jean Danks? --take notice some time.---

Or the bright and cheefful manner of Nancy on Friday? Could it have been a certain man derrick who lifted her out of the blues?

We hear that Leo Stadnick is thinking of moving from Hollis Hill to Freeland. Could Betty Corazza Have anything to do with it?

Congradulation to Ario Brennan upon his recent divorce.
