

Sports

Probably the most popular sport at the Center is Ping-Pong. This sport has been in the lime light because of the school tournament and also the two matches that were played with the A.Z.A. The boys have been quite successful, having won both matches that they played. The team composed of Sid Klemow, Miles Bonner, "Smokey" McNelis, and Charles Bruch seems to have quite a future ahead of them.

Basketball will go to the front this week as practice starts at Grant Street gym. There are approximately 12 games on the schedule and the team expects to have a great season.

The newest addition to the sports roster is the formation of the Boxing Club. The main purpose of the club is to teach the "manly art" to those fellows who feel that they need instruction. Later in the term a tournament will be held to determine the best pugilists in their respective weights. We then hope to top the season with a match with the freshman team at the campus.

Shifting to the feminine side, the girls went bowling Thursday night at the Y. As to the scores - well, we won't go into that. Incidentally some of the boys went bowling at the Central Wednesday night, and if anyone is interested there is a chance to form a league there every Wednesday at 7 P.M. How about it fellows?

Penn State considered the underdog before the football game Sunday afternoon came out beating Sal's Academy with a 6-4 victory. The opponents had full equipment, while the Penn State boys played without any material whatsoever. Early in the game a thirty-five yard pass was made good for a touchdown; this was the only time our team crossed the goal line of the opposition. Sal's Academy made two safeties for their four points, but they were unable to score a touchdown. Considering the lack of equipment and practice, the team played an exceptionally good game. The line up was; ends, Mulhall & Kuntz, tacklers, Zelman & Sours, Guards Tito & Hoovis, center, Weinberg, fullback, Vitabile, Halfbacks, Durbach & Silverstein, and quarterback Gilbert.

Introducing

If you're up bright and early on Tuesday morning, You'll see Mr. John L. (Shorty) Chase drowsily stumbling into his English class. Our hero who graduated from Harvard University, teaches English and German. Before joining the faculty here at the Center, Mr. Chase was an instructor at the Elgin Academy, Illinois, where he was active as a coach on the swimming and debating teams.

Mr. Chase, who has a baritone voice, likes to sing, but his neighbors have requested him to confine his singing to the bath-tub. He lists among his favorite recreations tennis, swimming and rummy.

Incidentally, he is a bachelor and not a bad looking one at that, which probably adds a lot to his overwhelming popularity, especially with the feminine students.
