

HAZLETON COLLEGIAN

Vol. V. No. 3

Penn State Undergraduate Center

11/11/41

Armistice Day Speech

Mr. George Puhak, a prominent attorney was the guest speaker at the Hazleton Undergraduate Center's Armistice Day Assembly. He spoke on the causes of the present International conflict.

Mr. Puhak said: "The people did not know that the armistice was only a brief period of peace, and not the end of the War."

According to him, the cause of this War and that of the First World War was economic inequality. Man himself is seeking the Almighty dollar and doesn't care very much what happens to his neighbor, as long as he himself succeeds.

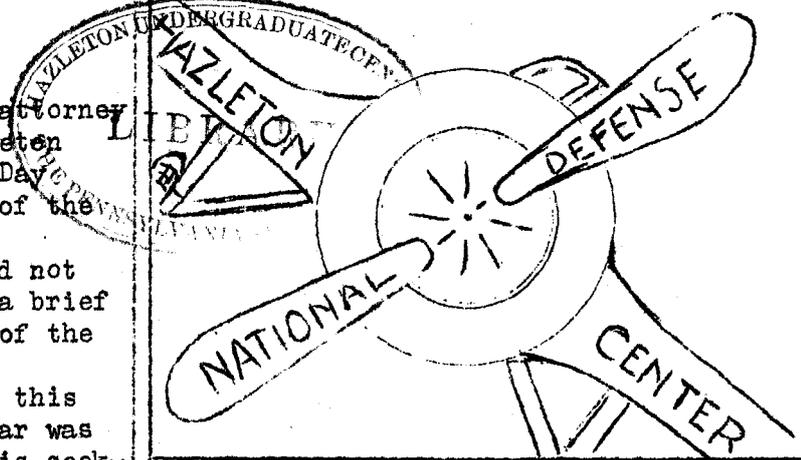

He also stated, "that science today is far ahead of politics, because science can produce for all and is totally good for all while politics is only good for a few."

Mr. George Puhak was graduated from Dickinson College and is very active in local affairs. He is chairman of the Republican Party's Campaign Committee, and received from the Chamber of Commerce of which he is a member, a plaque for his efforts in the Industrial Drive of 1941. Mr. Puhak is also an active member of the American Red Cross and the Community Chest.

Forecasting

The Hazleton Undergraduate Center of the Pennsylvania State College, will hold its annual Thanksgiving Dance at the Hotel Altamont on Tuesday evening, November 25th.

A band will be engaged for this occasion. Student with one guest will be admitted free of charge; all others will be charged one dollar per couple. Further arrangements will be announced later.

National Defense Training

During the past ten months, the Pennsylvania State College has established many courses to train persons for the defense industries. The Hazleton Undergraduate Center has taken part in two of these courses, and it is now engaged in a third. In this defense training the Center and its faculty have taken a leading part.

The first of these courses, Engineering Defense Training, was started in January and completed late in the spring. Mr. Herpel and Mr. Morgan, formerly of this Center, were the district representatives of the Center. Mr. Herpel was also the head of the program at the Center. Among the instructors were Mr. Isenberg, Mr. Thorpe, and Dr. Keift. Bob Byorick and Walt Aptulsky, both freshmen, were among the 120 students who took advantage of this training.

The second of these training courses was a course of introductory engineering subjects. Mr. Brentin was the administrative head of this summer program, and he had among his faculty Mr. Isenberg and Mr. Thorpe. Dr. Keift was not an instructor for this course, but was on tour as one of the lecturers of a mobile chemistry demonstration. Miss Saby acted as secretary for the Center students who

cont. page