HALF SESSION TUESDAY FOR PICNIC AT EURANA PARK

SECRECY SURROUNDS

BRASS INSPECTION

Strict military secrecy surrounded the arrival of army brass today as the Hazleton Undergraduate Center's ROTC unit prepared to undergo its first major inspection.

None of the reserve corps members knew the rank of the inspecting officer expected here today. The past two weeks have been utilized in spit and polish care for the equipment attached to the HUC group.

It was believed, however, the results of the inspection will determine to a great extent the trend of training to be staged in Hazleton when the new semester begins this September.

Faculty Outing Sunday

At Erlemann Home

A motorcade of Center faculty is planning to travel to the home of Anna Erlemann, Hill 16, Jeffersonville, N. Y., Sunday for the spring staff picnic.

The outing will be a family affair and a full day of recreation has been planned for the staff. The group will return the same day planning to arrive here late Sunday evening.

The Hazleton Undergraduate Center's annual Spring Picnic will be held Tuesday afternoon at Eurana Park in Weatherly. It was announced by the school's administration office that a half-day session will prevail Tuesday so that all the students will be able to attend the outing.

The program for the afternoon will be highlighted by a championship game for the college softball title of 1948. The game will be played at the park baseball diamond.

The recreational program has been planned by Syd Rudman and the serving of the evening meal will be handled by a group under the direction of Joseph Pavone. The usual picnic menu will be served.

Included in the program will be dancing to be held in the Eurana Park pavilion during the evening.

It was rumored this week-end that some method of transportation might be worked out to insure the safe arrival of the student body to and from the park.
