

How To Write A Letter To Your Sweetheart—Or Advice For The Male Who Won't Send Mail face—he can't see where he's going anyway.

You've got an idea! Write it down, and take it from there: you might admit that you don't want hair-in-eyes, because you want a good view of her . . . but you wouldn't mind some of her hair in your eyes—right now.

What else can you write about if the daily diary is currently dull? Well, try reminiscing — about your youth, for instance. Recall old experiences together, dates you've had with her; it may be easier to write the things you found you couldn't say. Speculate about what she's doing, whom she's seeing. She'll love to read about herself.

Above all show that you like her, that she's in your thoughts. If you can do that, you're set. And without majoring in English, too.

COLLEGIAN STAFF PARTY WEDNESDAY

The spring party of the Hazleton Collegian staff will be held Wednesday evening at the home of the paper's advisor, Art Seibel, on Carleton Avenue, in the Hazleton Heights section. The plans for the annual affair were made at a staff meeting held two weeks ago.

Co-chairmen for the affair are Grace McBride and Dan Wargo. They have announced the following committee assignments in preparation for the final get-together of the college paper's staff:

Reservations — Joe Olivia, June Reinmiller, and Leon Baden.

Refreshments—George Demshock, Gene Kostick, and Anita Goldberg.

Music and entertainment — Marguerite Rondish and Ray Phillips.

Each member of the Collegian staff has been asked to make his reservations as soon as possible with the above-named committee.

Beauty Expert In HUC Speech Class

Although the girls of HUC are few in number, they are blessed with good luck. No doubt more than one of you girls has had cosmetics problems. Well, worry no more. Take your problems to Monsieur Albert Lorenzoni, beautician extraordinary. In Speech class, Monsieur Lorenzoni displayed on his model, Madame John B. Schultz, the proper why's and how's of applying make-up. Appointments may be made through Miss H. L. James, Speech Instructor.

ANSWERS TO BRAIN TEASER

Here are some suggestions for turning out an effective, sweet-but-not-corny letter to your girl.

"Forget about form" is the first commandment. Ignore those monotonous openers like, "I take my pen in hand," or "Well, how are you, I am fine." Dive in—for instance, "I hate horses. Once I saw a horse beating his old, tired driver . . ."

The point is get going by writing down anything that comes to mind. Don't move through a catalogue of recent and future events. Don't worry about schoolish form and style; be conversational, chatty and natural.

In fact, to get your ideas, just imagine a conversation between the two of you. For example . . .

YOU: Hiya, Suzie!

SHE: Hello, you! Glad to see you again. You're a wonderful guy, you know—intelligent, attractive, sweet—and you've such nice hair. It needs cutting, baby.

YOU: I know. Getting one tomorrow—a crew cut . . . which reminds me. Why should a crew have short hair? What if a guy's hair's in his

Outstanding ROTC

Student Picked

At a meeting held Tuesday afternoon at twelve o'clock, the Vaskomen chose Norman Rickenbacker to receive a medal of honor presented each year to the outstanding student in ROTC. Rickenbacker will receive a gold medal inscribed with his name and it will be suspended on a ribbon of the school colors. The medal will be awarded each year at the close of the spring semester.

Zo Aquaria At Broad Street

After many weeks of numerous field trips, instructors Grace Thomas and James Steel have collected enough specimens to stock three aquaria in the zoology lab at the Broad Street Building. The aquaria contain specimens of frogs, salamanders, turtles, fishes, snails, and tadpoles.

In the past students had only an opportunity to study prepared specimens, but now, with the addition of these aquaria specimens students may examine live animals, their feeding habits, and habitats. Mr. Steel announced that the laboratory is open to all interested students desiring to examine these specimen. They may go in any time the laboratory is not in use. He also wishes to thank Mr. Richard Waechter for the loan of an aquarium, and all the students who so generously contributed their time and material.

NEW LOOK FOR

MEN DISPLAYED

Steve Shutovich isn't one to be outdone by anyone. Ever since Steve has started Zoology 27 classes, he was envious of Miss Thomas' golden locks. The way the situation stands now, is that a bottle of peroxide is the answer for this "golden voiced" Liberal Artist.

Of course he didn't say so in any specific way—but when a person starts buying blonde hair nets, what else does it mean?

Teacher: What tense is "I am beautiful"?

Little boy: Past.
