

To Collect Goods For Overseas

Penn State students in Hazleton are being asked to take part in the Church World Service clothing drive for overseas relief. Locally the Hazleton Committee on Overseas Relief is staging the drive. In college the International Relations Club is sponsoring the group.

A box has been placed in the Walnut Street building and donations may be placed there. On the list of materials are:

Clothing of all kinds, bedding, shoes tied in pairs, children's books, cotton feed bags, felt hats, Bibles, table ware but not chinaware, bar soap, toys, kitchen utensils, sewing supplies, games, cutlery, galoshes.

Dolls, linens, farm tools and harness, school supplies, candles and stubs, any kind of seeds, stockings and sox, hand tools, bicycles, toilet supplies, and ladies' handbags.

Donations are to be wrapped or bundled. A city-wide door-to-door collection is being made.

tumes for the puppets was supervised by Freshman Anna Pfeiffer.

Other groups who appeared in the variety production are the Hazleton High School Thespians, the Choralairs, the YMCA male chorus, the YWHA, Most Precious Blood symphonic orchestra, YWCA group, and Hazleton's Little Theater group.

This program was presented as a benefit show for the temple building fund. Construction has been started on the erection of a two-story, brick annex to the temple building at Church and Hemlock streets.

PENN STATE JESTERS DRAMA CLUB NAME

"Penn State Jesters" was the name chosen for the Hazleton Center's dramatic club.

An interesting demonstration on applying make-up for the juvenile, the middle age and the old age person was given by Jean Lovrinic at the last meeting. Neil Lwellyn was the model.

During intermission on November 19 an entertaining show will be presented by members of the Penn State Jesters.

Arthur Cloetingh, head of Dramatics at the campus, will be here November 16 for a center caucus.

KATHY KO-ED'S KORNER

In all fairness to the males of the Hazleton Center, a survey has been conducted among the women to get some idea of what type of clothing is making or breaking the man today.

One contributor thought the men ought to spend more time combing their hair. Hair knows what 'tis to be parted! Another spoke highly of something a little more "groovy," creases in trousers and shirt sleeves. Eyes right, take a bow, Aaron Deitch.

Splashy socks apparently rate second highest with the women, not to overlook a vital complement, loud ties. Fellows taking courses from James Steele should take note. And, does anyone know who helps Bill Baran on and off with his ski-shoes? . . .

Some very interesting facts have seeped out about the outside dives of several women students at HUC. To mention just a few, Nancy DiBonifazio and Ursuline Umbriac are both trained nurses at the Hazleton State Hospital. Their hours are from 4 until 12 p. m. daily . . .

Sara Gensel, of Nescopeck, is a little woman with a lot of responsibilities. Besides taking active part in extra-curricular activities, president of the Neophyte Dance Club and secretary of IRC, she is a leader of a Girl Scout Troop at Nescopeck, and conducts a junior choir there. . .

All girls desiring to participate in women's activities are reminded that they will automatically lose membership if dues are not paid. .

Captain of the Girls' Cheerleading Team is Grace Heppe. The team, under the direction of Mrs. Naomi Goss, is composed of Betty Fabian, Dolores Lee, Mary Lou Pollock, and Janet Szutowicz. Plans are being made for a rally sometime next week.

On Thanksgiving Eve the team expects to make their first appearance at the Alumni game.

Bob Thomas Is Chem Club Pres.

Robert Thomas has been elected president of the Hazleton Center's first Chemistry Club. Also elected to office are: Myron Schmutzer, vice president; Mary Ellen McHugh, secretary-treasurer; Jack Sipple, representative to the Activities Board. The club has been organized through the efforts of Chemistry Instructor Mae Fauth.

The club meets every other Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Room 1, Broad Street building. A monthly dues schedule of 25c was approved by the members.

An attempt is being made to have a moving picture reel on chemistry for this Tuesday's meeting. Robert Kostick has been appointed chairman of the club's refreshment committee. Club officials have extended an invitation to all students to join the club and take part in its activities.

CHINESE ENGINEER SPOKE TO STUDENTS

Conditions in China and the reasons for them were explained by Carl T. Mao, Chinese electrical engineer, to the members of the International Relations Club recently.

At present with the PP&L, Mao expects to return soon to China to take up electrical engineering there.

CLASSIFIED ADS

Do you drive to Pittsburg, Scranton or Philadelphia over the weekend? Have a book you'd like to sell? Need a room or a sliderule? If so, put it in the classified ads, a new column in the Collegian for just such problems. A special envelope will be in the Collegian office marked for ads. Any students with material are urged to submit it to the paper for publication two days before it goes to press. Ads for the next issue are due no later than November 20.

FREE. Tickets for Hazleton Talent on Parade. See Syd Rudman.

RIDES TO MARYLAND. Miss Lois Neifert offers to take riders any weekend to points on route to Maryland.

Oh yes, I'm off the dames for life, Let some other guy take her for a wife.

I'm through, washed up. They ain't no more,

Say, who's that blonde who just came through the door?

Seven o'clock is the hour of decision! It's then that you decide to go to a movie, a dance, play bridge, bowl—or study.

Father: Are they very strict on you at school?

Son: Well, one fellow died in class and they propped him up till the lecture ended.
