

STORY OF CHRISTMAS DEPICTED BY SCHOOL GROUPS THIS WEEK

The Christmas story told in chronological order with Christmas carols, some Fred Waring arrangements, was presented by center students at the Hotel Altamont Monday night as their annual Christmas program.

With the aid of Miss Margaret Campbell the Dramatic club handled the narration and tableaux. Musical direction and arrangement was under the direction of Miss Pearl Garbrick.

Representatives from various civic organizations of the city comprised the audience in addition to faculty members, students and friends. Several of the people who attended later remarked it was one of the nicest Christmas programs they had ever seen portrayed in such a manner.

Tuesday night the troupe gave their second performance at the White Haven Sanitarium. On Christmas Eve the transcribed presentation will be aired over WAZL at 10:30 p.m.

The cast and committees for the program were:

Wise men—Leroy Gaverick, Burt Minkin, and Neil Llwellyn. Shepherds—Henry Ziegler and Nick Callo. Joan Eidelman was cast in the part of the Christmas angel.

Readers were June Rienmiller, Chad McCracken and Sarah Gensel. Mary — Janet Szutowicz. Joseph — Wilson Barto.

Ushers — Bob Timlin, Leonard Williams, Joyce Schofield and Dolores Kobrick. Make-up artists — Jean Lovrinic and Beverly Silverman. Joyce Schofield was in charge of the stage props.

Lighting facilities were directed by Henry Ziegler and Art Edstrom and Beverly Silverman was in charge of housing arrangement.

The transcribed program was made Sunday afternoon in the Tyrolean room. Art work for the pageant was done by the center's art department students who were supervised by Instructor Art Carpenter. Costumes were provided by St. John's church through the efforts of Student Councilman John Parvensky.

PEACHY

Flirted with every

Soon—

With Dick,

And—

Off came eyelashes
Long and thick.

Last year 2,600 persons were killed and 96,000 injured in United States traffic accidents as a result of driving on the wrong side of the road. Drive right!

The Chem club held its Christmas party at the Broad Street building Tuesday night. Motion pictures on cellulose and magnesium were shown, after which the group adjourned and moved into a decorated laboratory for a buffet lunch. The food was prepared by Mary Ellen McHugh's mother and was served by Mary Ellen who was hostess for the evening.

In addition to the members of the club, Miss Mae Fauth, sponsor of the club, and James Steel attended.

January 4 is scheduled for the next meeting in the Broad Street building at 7:30 p.m.

Language Clubs In Choral Sing

Under the direction of Miss Emma Phillips and Miss Edra Staffieri the members of the French and Spanish clubs participated in the International Christmas carols program held in the Salem Evangelical church Dec. 3.

Sponsored by the Christian Services Guild, the program was presented by nineteen regional music groups who rendered their various arrangements in native languages.

The French Club, with Joella McCarty as soloist, vocalized two selections that signify Christ's birth to the people of France.

The Spanish Club, represented by Mary Claypotch, Marilyn George, and Rita Mikula, entertained the audience with several selections that are popular in Spain during the Yuletide season.

GUEST SINGERS

The Penn State Community Chorus, directed by Miss Pearl Garbrick, were the guests of Freddie Houser on his weekly musical program last night over WAZL, aired from Genetti's Tyrolean room.

The chorus sang a series of world-known Christmas carols.
