

HAZLETON COLLEGIAN

PUBLISHED SEMI-MONTHLY
BY THE STUDENTS OF THE HAZLETON CENTER

Editor June Reinmiller
Sports Editor Dick Bagby
Photographer Walter Stone
Typist Anna Peifer

BROAD STREET BUREAU

Joe Olivia Gene Kostick

STAFF WRITERS

Beverly Silverman, Sheldon Vilensky, Mary Lou Pollock,
Bill Baran, Ernest Denke, Bob Sacco, Sam Cerminaro, John Hall,
Ursoline Imbriac, Stan Pasda

EDITORIAL

OUCH!

The girls have been literally walking around with their feet in their pockets. Somebody stepped on their toes.

At the Activities Board meeting of April 5, a motion was made to eliminate the coronation of a May Queen and the ceremonies at the dance on May 6. It was seconded by another member, and following a period of discussion, was passed by a 5-4 vote. There might not be any coronation if it had been allowed to stop at this.

Somehow the word leaked out, as words will, and a gnashing of teeth was heard throughout the corridors.

"They can't do that!" the women shouted. "Why not?" they were questioned.

The truth of the matter is that the board does not have the authority. The matter has been ignored. What it did do, however, was reveal the lackadaisical attitude of all students toward extra-curricular activities.

The member who made the motion was supported by others in his accusations that the majority of the students, including the women, were not interested in the affair enough to spend so much money. They testified that approximately one-fourth of the entire student body participated in the voting and that very few girls attended the joint meeting with the board to make plans. This meant they weren't interested.

These are pretty weak arguments to be used in depriving the women of their one and only social function. How many students voted for councilmen in the last election? How many women attended their own meetings? The girls are in the minority, but so are other smaller bodies which receive much more money than they.

Nevertheless, the women who defended their action are determined to show all the doubting Thomases that students do want this coronation.

How will they know? By checking the support they receive with decorations, practices, and attendance. Supporting them is NOT signing petitions circulated by a group of students who totally lack school spirit and fair play! Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of THEIR PARTY!

Around The College Circuit

Seen on a blackboard in Old Main: "Dear Professor: we are here and you wasn't. Now you is here and we isn't."

The University of Notre Dame has started a "Global Letter Writing Club." The initiation of a world-wide correspondence exchange among American Catholic college students and foreign college students was announced recently by Mr. G. C. Witteried, Jr., representing the Student Relief Campaign. This exchange is intended to assist in reconstructing the morale of student victims of war by presenting to them personalized correspondence as direct indication that American students are concerned about their welfare.

Here's a worldly article taken from the Boston College Heights:

Murph: "HAWAII, gentlemen, you must be HUNGARY."

Don: "Yes, SIAM, and we can't RUMANIA long either. VENICE lunch ready?"

Murph: "I'll RUSSIA to a table. What will you HAVANA?"

Larry: "Anything at all but can't (Continued on page 4)

Campus And Alumni News

Most of the people in the Hazleton area who know Joe Cotesse, a main campus music major and Center student last year, already know that he has been named director of the Catholic chapel choir. But very few know what Joe has been going through to rate this recent honor.

The baton didn't fall to him without any effort. He was primed and proved by the Music Ed department, and last week, during an exhibition before inspecting faculty members from other college departments, directed an hour-long composition. Even the most calloused musician will appreciate the job that is, even if he is not being watched and criticized by educators. Incidentally, Joe rated rather high.

Andrew Bozena of McAdoo, a pre-med student who spent two years at the Center, was taken into the chemistry honorary fraternity a week last Sunday. Good marks are the keys to the kingdom here.

Allen Wenner's brother, Chuck, a student at Temple, sent a letter to his campus relative teasing him about Penn State and expounding (Continued on page 4)

Club Doings

ENGINEERING-CHEMISTRY

Mr. E. L. Phillips, representative of the Corning Glass Works, of Corning, New York, was the guest of the Engineering and Chemistry clubs at their joint meeting last Thursday night. Mr. Phillips supervised the showing of a motion picture, "Glass in Science," and conducted a forum discussion afterwards. The movie emphasized the skill which a worker with glass must possess and the care that must be exercised in the production of pyrex glass.

The next meetings of these clubs will be separate. Watch the bulletin board for future meeting dates.

MUMMY CLUB

The Amateur Egyptologists Society met last Tuesday night at the Broad Street Building. Eugene Andrukite presented a lecture on the first to twelfth dynasties, and Leonard Nork gave an informative speech on the geography of Egypt. Mr. Steel, club sponsor, presented an interesting discourse on hieroglyphics. The club will meet next on April 21.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

The Sandwich Cinema Hour of this club saw two movies, People of Two Worlds and Greece, last Wednesday. On Thursday the members discussed the North Atlantic Pact. This club meets every other Wednesday and every Thursday at noon. All persons interested are invited to attend.

NOTICE

TAKE NOTE, ALL CLUB REPORTERS TO COLLEGIAN: If your club is to be represented in the paper, all articles will have to be in the Collegian office by deadline date. That date will be announced on the bulletin board at least two or three days ahead of time.

(Continued on page 4)

THOUGHTS IN THE BREEZE

Beverly Silverman

'Tain't right. No one appreciates Mr. Steele's expensive Egyptian cigarettes. Could it be because of their distasteful odor?

Nice going Squirrely, for the careful arrangement of cars going to Wilkes-Barre. No April Fool trick was played on the sociology and speech classes when they went there on a field trip. Surprisingly so, they didn't have stormy weather. Hazleton Centerites had entertainment at the dinner preceding the lecture. Eddie Erotas was at one end of the table and Squirrely at the other. See what we mean?

Easter time gives Louisa May a chance to display her rabbit pins.

Definitely nice gesture of speech classes to invite students who had free periods to see the movie on parliamentary procedure.

Heard by way of the grape-vine we were told Miss Emma Phillips plays an excellent game of ping-pong and is looking for a challenger. You better be a good player.

Nancy DiBonifazio's remedy for colds is to drink many liquids; however, Mr. Steele has been wondering what kind of liquids she means.

Don't forget it is softball every Tuesday at five o'clock for the girls on the 22nd Street field. And former cheerleaders are now the players.

The May Queen Dance is bound to have sensational decorations with Jimmy Geffert as chairman of this committee.

Paranac's car sure makes a nice station wagon from Walnut Street to Broad.

"Mac" McHugh was down to the campus last weekend.

By the way have you fellas picked out your queen for the May Queen Dance?

Why does Wysocki come into his eight o'clock speech class late every Monday morning?

Miss Thomas' small education class made some observations up at Hazleton High School. From all reports some hated to leave that wonderful environment.

Congrats to the May Queen of '49, but who is she ???

It is better to walk along the road to success than to sit and wait for a ride.

PEACHY

By Ursoline Imbriac

The phone

Rang out

Loud and bold,

Peachy wonders

For whom the Bell tolled.

But,

She was awakened

From deepest slumber,

by

—You guessed it—

The wrong number !!!