

SPORTLIGHTS

HUCKSTERS OPEN SEASON NOVEMBER 23

Amid the final stretch of the football season, the Hazleton Undergraduate Center will open their cage season at the A. D. Thomas gymnasium on November 23 against a powerful alumni squad.

Greeted by forty-five candidates on the opening practice session, October 10, Coach Rudman was impressed with the available material. Practice sessions are being held three times a week under the tutelage of Coach Rudman and his able assistant Johnny Apichella. The squad is shaping up nicely, and competition for the first five is very keen.

Outstanding prospects vying for the first five slots are George Woods, Billy Gardener, Zach Taylor, Walt Stanek, Leon Lefkowitz, Bill Habel and Jimmy Mulligan. The remaining player, however, can't be counted out of the running, for, as Coach Rudman says, "Each man will have equal opportunity to show his ability. The starting five won't be determined until game time."

TENTATIVE SCHEDULE

- November 23—Alumni.
  - *December 9—Altoona.
  - *December 10—Dubois.
  - *December 14—Pottsville.
  - December 17—Hershey J. C.
  - *January 7—Swarthmore.
  - January 18—Keystone J. C.
  - January 20—Altoona.
  - *January 21—York.
  - *January 25—Hershey
  - *February 15—Keystone J. C.
  - February 20—Pottsville
  - February 24—Swarthmore.
  - February 25—York J. C.
  - March 3—Tournament.
  - March 13—Long Island Frosh.
- *Away games.

Get It In!

Do you have an original idea for a newspaper article or feature? Haven't you ever had an urge to write? Well, do something about it. Bring it in to the Collegian Office.

Hiway

For the information of prospective visitors the Collegian office is tucked away in a corner on the third floor of "Old Main." It can be reached by dogsled, helicopter, or just plain walking.

'Twas in a restaurant they met;
Romeo and Juliet.
He had no cash to pay the debt,
So Rom-e-od what Juli-et.

I met a girl, named Passion,
I asked her for a date.
I took her out to dinner,
My gosh how Passion-ate.

CHEESECAKE

The First social activity of the year sponsored by the Student Council was the Halloween dance held at St. John's hall. A portion of our students were conspicuous by their absence, but those present had a fine evening of entertainment. Gallons of cider flowed, cans of pretzels emptied, and the dancers wore themselves out.

If the non-dancing students will avail themselves of Syd Rudman's Thursday afternoon dance club, the membership of the stag "herd" roaming forlornly around the dance floor edges will drop convincingly.

Every student who has paid his SGA fee supports these dances, so why not come to your own party? Make your plans now for the Thanksgiving dance on Tuesday, November 22. How about it—a record turnout and one hundred per cent participation in Tuesday evening's festivities?

THE FINE ART OF STUDY

After I received that bluebook in Comp 5, with the large red inscription, quote, "69—You can do better than that!", I decided that I could. My mind was made up; now to select the most scientific and thorough way to carry out this decision.

I visited the office of the Student Counseling Service. Mr. Krecker listened sympathetically to my problem and promptly proceeded to compose a schedule which could show me how to take fullest advantage of every waking hour. I still don't quite understand his scheme for studying while asleep. With this timetable tucked securely in my left shoe, I set off to the library.

I gathered an armful of the best reference books including Bartlett's Familiar Pears, the June, 1946, issue of Readers' Digest, an Esso road map of North and South Dakota, and Miss Bonn's high school year book. I checked these volumes out (you see this story is a fantasy), and left.

Reading material, chart, now I must get equipment! Of course I would need a monochromatic, fluorescent-sodium study lamp with push-button adjustment and an Esquire Girl shade; a DuPont nevermar, gloss-shine, ever-wear, dura-bilt, cushion-flo paperweight; one quart of panchromatic, effervescent, superwetting, hydrascript ink in Ali Kahn black; a feather-cut blond-mahogany writing desk with built-in electric waste-disposal unit; and finally an egg-point pen for graceful ovals in handwriting. How can I miss?

Let's see now; it's ten minutes after five; I should have been increasing my vocabulary by reading ten pages of the dictionary but I missed my bus home and I will have to eat my supper during my home chemistry experiments. I can discuss Plato with my mother at the breakfast table—she's not too good with Aristotle though. I can't miss the movie at the Capitol tonight, hmmm . . . Eight to ten is reserved for history; oh well, the picture is based on some sort of a historical novel—that will amount to about the same thing. Ten-thirty to eleven is supposed to be for recreation. Good grief! do you mean I've been sitting here at Cipriano's for three hours? It is nearly two A.M. I'd better go to bed so that I'll be fresh and clear-eyed for that Comp quiz tomorrow morning. All these weeks of my new study program will begin paying dividends at last.

Gee she graded those papers fast. I guess there wasn't much to correct. Ah, here's mine!
"69" — You can do better than that!"

Why don't you ask Emerson Knyrim to tell you the difference between a turtle and a mountain goat?
Who reads these questions anyway?

A large portion of the Highacres student body attended the Penn State Vs. Temple game last Saturday.

* * *

Burt Minkin seems to be making a hobby out of getting into traffic accidents.

Do You Know Your Sports?

This sports quiz has been designed to test your knowledge of present and past sport facts. Are you ready? Let's go!

1. What prominent backfield ace of yesteryears was known as the "Galloping Ghost"?
A. Red Grange.
B. Dave O'Brien.
C. Tommy Harmon.
2. Who was the first negro baseball pitcher to enter into Major League competition?
A. Jackie Robinson.
B. Dan Bankhead.
C. Larry Doby.
3. Which Army cadet was referred to as "Mr. Inside" during the West Point reign in '43, '44, and '45?
A. Arnold Tucker.
B. Glenn Davis.
C. Doc. Blanchard.
4. Who did Joe Louis defeat to capture the heavyweight championship of the world?
A. James Braddock.
B. Jack Dempsey.
C. Gene Tunney.
5. Who is the present coach of the Penn State varsity football squad?
A. Jie Bendek.
B. Lou Little.
C. Frank Leahy.
6. Who was recently selected "rookie of the year" in the American League?
A. Jerry Coleman.
B. Roy Seivers.
C. Alex Killner.
7. What famous negro singer was a famous football player in his collegiate days?
A. Paul Robeson.
B. George Washington Carver.
C. Jesse Owens.
8. Who was known as the "Iron man of baseball"?
A. Babe Ruth.
B. Lou Gehrig.
C. Honus Wagner.

Under four, buy a television set.
Seven, you've been around.
Rice.
Eight correct, you are Grantland.
8. Lou Gehrig.
7. Paul Robeson.
6. Jerry Coleman.
5. Joe Bendek.
4. James Braddock.
3. Doc Blanchard.
2. Dan Bankhead.
1. Red Grange.

ANSWERS

One Thin Dime

Mr. Zerbe reveals that if the span of time, which has been recorded in history, is compared to the amount of estimated geologic time, it is likened to the width of one dime placed atop the mast of the Empire State building.