COUNCIL ANNOUNCES ARRANGEMENTS FOR MAJOR SOCIAL FUNCTIONS

Student council has announced some of the arrangements for the three major social functions of the spring season. Leading off will be the R. O. T. C. Ball, April 19. This annual military ball will be staged in the Valley Country Club at Conyngham. Frankie Reynolds and His Orchestra will furnish the music. Prices for tickets to the big affair have not been announced.

For the Coronation Ball (semi-formal) Scotty Parsons has been secured. This ball on May Day, May 10, in honor of the Queen of Highacres May Day celebration, will also be held at the Valley Country Club, right at the foot of the mountain below the College.

Genetti's Rose Room will be the scene of the Convocation Dinner-Dance, which has been set for June 7.

WANTED: EDITORS FOR NEW COLLEGIAN PICTURE REVIEW; PHOTOGRAPHERS AT WORK

For the new COLLEGIAN publishing venture, the picture review of 1951-52, the Student Council is accepting applications for editors. All editorial positions are open as this edition goes to press: editor-in-chief, picture editor, copy editor, club editor, lay-out editor, and reporters and typists. Applications will be accepted by Council President Henry A. Giuliani, treasurer Frank Nowak, and by staff adviser W. R. Grubbs.

Already photographers are at work taking, developing, and printing the pictures that will go into the new publication, which will be issued at the end of the spring term according to present plans. Rodger A. Krause and Mr. Gilbert H. Ward have been doing the photographic end of the preparations, and they still have many more pictures to go.

The new publication will present in compact form a picture review of all clubs, activities, sports, and special events such as May Day. It will be published through the sponsorship of the Student Council and will be presented to all students, according to the financial planning of the Council, as one of the services paid for by the student activities fee.
