where I overheard a conversation between Manny Barbeito and Harriet Tulin. It seems as though there is a fad for argile socks. Any color will suit Manny, he's not particular.

As I entered the cafeteria where, just by accident I overheard the fellows talking about the new style jackets which Paul Bain models. (Not quite down to his knees.) The girls' comments on the jackets are—"They're pretty sharp."

Has anyone noticed how all the fellows are trying to acquire that certain something which attracts all the girls to Dave Landau? It's a current sight to see Dave engaged in a lively conversation with a group of girls.

What is this rumor I hear about a certain somebody having a case on Harriet Tulin? For details consult Joe Belovich, who seems to be the love counselor in this case.

From some of the rumors I hear going around I think the success of the Christmas Dance depends upon the boys. (That is getting themselves a date.)

Is it true that Sally Rarich has no interest in any certain boy or is she trying to hide a secret love affair?

What does Mount Alto have that Highacres doesn't? Maybe a girl by the name of Nancy Kibler could answer that question.

What attracts some of the sophomore girls to the dining room? Maybe Marie Jacko and Joan Griesing could answer that. How about it girls?

Why is it that Katy Kokinda spends most of her leisure time on doing homework in the lounge?

Has anyone seen Eddie Eisiminger washing Paul Bain's car? Could there be any special reason—namely Ann?

Does anyone know why Don Rantz has a special attachment to square dances?

Does anyone know why Rollie Swank thinks Nescopceck has a special attraction? Could it be Helen?

The time has come for your chippy chatter friend to get back to his home in the trees, so until we meet again I hope you can get all the answers to my questions.

Your friend,

Chippy Chipmunk

ITEM: Our bookstore is bright these Advent days with the Christmas tree provided and decorated by Miss Sylvia Williams, the bookstore secretary. She has the tree planted in approved fashion, and she waters it every day to keep it spruce.

 FLASH ANNOUNCEMENT BY STUDENT COUNCIL: Any student who is interested in collecting tickets at home basketball games is to consult President Andy Karpinski at once. Further announcement of a new policy on home basketball games, decided yesterday afternoon at Council meeting, will appear in the next issue of the COLLEGIAN. The first home game (at A.D. Thomas gym) is against Pitt's Johnstown Center, January 9, 1953.
