 THE ROVING REPORTER REPORTS

The first person our roving reporter saw this week was Highacres' own Latin Lover--Tony Pecone, but this week he was not giving dancing lessons, but was telling everyone how to get dates. Better listen you boys who don't have a date for the May Day Dance***The next people she saw were Ralph Whitmer and Artie Maxwell studying their French in the lounge. It's a wonder that they could study with all the noise. In one corner were Ray Schultz and Bill Coll arguing about--well you know what--politics, of course! In another corner she saw Butch Pardee and Bill Morse. She tried to hear what they were saying, but all that was caught were "...tonic" and "country..."***In the same corner were "Versatile" Ustynoski and Mike "Evanch" discussing their dart-shooting ability. I hear they get a lot of practice in at the Broadview. What is this Broadview--a resort? Sprawled out on the couch were Norm Hall and Bob Henney. Wonder why they looked so tired? Also looking dead was John Carr--Really John!***She next went into the cafeteria and saw Anna Petrushka sitting by herself. Are you an introvert Ann? She then saw Nick Yankoski. Nick used to seem like the quiet type, but not anymore.***It looks as if Harv Edolstein has taken over Cal Shipman's position as Demon of the School.***Well, that's all for now. If you'd like to see your name in print next week, just be different.

 GLIDER GETS SKIN GRAFTS

Bob Prochko, president of the Glider Club, has announced the acceptance of two members to the club: Jack Taluskie and Roy Atherholt.

The members of the organization have been eager to finish the repairing of Captain Carper's ship in order that they might fly it soon.

Inspection reveals that as soon as one wing and the fuselage will be covered with material, and the parts assembled, the ship will be in flying condition. All the men involved, including Captain Carper, are really enthusiastic about their venture.

 BELIEVE IT OR NOT

Joe Scarcella's car went a whole week without getting a flat--How is it riding on the rims Joe?

Joe Belovich has so much studying to catch up on he has asked if he could do some of it during the summer--Is that possible Mr. Kostos?

When Mike Evancho pulls into a gas station and says, "Change the oil," he puts his head out the window--Seriously, Mike, is number 30 oil better for hair than number 20?

Andy Karpinski needs someone to help him carry his tray at lunch time--Where do you put it all Andy?

Pete "Zany" Zablocki claims he hasn't felt a touch of spring fever yet--he only "CUT" three classes in the past week, I guess he hasn't felt it yet.

Harry Heiser has been seen studying in his car at the parking lot--it's cooler down there isn't it, Harry?

Jack Donovan chased Harry Truman all the way to Florida to get that flashy "banana bunch" shirt he wears.

Nicky Yannuzzi passed a barber shop the other day--The barber put his head out the door and shouted, "Nick do you want an estimate?"

Jim Ustynoski can speak Spanish as fluently as Miss DiRubbo--Well! ! almost. Billy Coll has given his oath that he will bring a lunch before the end of the semester--(I hope I'm present at the time.)

Ray "I love girls" Schultz is having trouble getting a date for the May Day
